IN SCHOOL BOARD

To Establish a Lowell Day in the Local Schools

Teachers for Evening Drawing Schools Selected—Supt. Whitcomb Has Trouble Translating Birth Records

A "Lowell day" for Lowell was the suggestion offered by Rev. Charles T. Billings before the school committee at a meeting of that body held last night. He asked that the board might, if the members thought best, appoint a committee to consider whether some action might not be taken whereby the children would come into closer contact with the life of the city, either through a Lowell day or by some other means.

Mr. Billings expressed himself as being heartily in favor of the custom of observing patriotic days, such as Lincoln day, such observances inspired patriotism and revived history in the minds of the people. "But," he said, "there is no day that calls attention to the city of Lowell. We have very little in our schools that tends to develop civic pride in a child's nature. Very few are familiar, for instance, with the fact that Charles Dickens made Lowell the subject of a sketch. One of the great things that America needs, is civic pride. There is very little of this spirit in Lowell. There ought to be cultivated in the children a spirit of local pride in their city. I think it will not be long before every city has a study of its own life put before the school children, but that is in the future."

"We might, it seems to me, have a Lowell day, when we could call the attention of the children to the men and women who have represented the best in the life of the city."

"If a Lowell day were to be established it should be done with great care, so that it might not deteriorate into a farce."

All that Mr. Billings asked was that the board might, if the members thought best, appoint a committee to consider whether some action might not be taken, whereby the children would come into closer contact with the life of the city, either through a Lowell day or by some other means.

The school committee after discussing the suggestion offered by Mr. Billings, voted that a committee, such as was suggested by him, be appointed by the board.

The Janitors' Pay
At a regular meeting of the school board held last night the committee on teachers and salaries, presented the following report:

"That we recommend that day school janitors be paid for Sundays in November and April, as well as for December, January, February and March, as has heretofore been the case; that the pay of Michael Lynch, janitor at the high school, be raised from $20.00 to $25.00 a day; that of Michael Finnegan and John Scott, janitors at training school, be raised from $19.00 to $22.00 a day; and that of Fred Tilton, janitor at the Highland and Powell street schools, be raised from $22.00 to $25.00."

We recommend that the salary of Mr. Henry L. Williams as transient officer be at the rate of $200 a year; that the salary of Mr. Fred Johnston, assistant in the supply room, be raised from $22 to $25 a day; and that Miss Alice T. Neal, as principal of both Riverside primary school and the Riverside grammar school, be at the rate of $50 a year. Signed by

Andrew G. Toomey,
Darius P. Swampy.

All members of the board were present except Burton H. Welch, chairman of the committee on evening schools. Mr. Toward asked that the report of the committee on teachers and salaries be taken up item by item, and it was so voted.

Item one, referring to the pay of day school janitors for Sundays in November, was accepted without opposition.

The item relating to the pay of day school janitors for the month of March, was also adopted. Mr. Lynch had been commended by Principal Finnegan, who said that he was a valuable man and entitled to better pay.

On the question of an advance for Michael Finnegan, from $19.00 to $22.00 a day, Mr. Toomey said he was the only man in the same position who got less than $25.00.

Mr. Toward said he had no objection to Mr. Finnegan's advance, in view of the fact, but if they voted to increase Mr. Scott's salary there would be a problem, as every janitor who has seven rooms would want the same advance.

The advance was voted in both cases. Messrs. Mitchell, Toward and Leonard voted no in the case of Mr. Scott. The advance to $25.00 was also voted to Mr. Fred Tilton.

The item relating to the salary of Mr. Williams was adopted without opposition.

The proposition to raise the salary of the assistant in the supply room was defeated. Messrs. Neal, Maloney and Toomey voting in favor of the advance.

When the question relating to the salary of Miss Neal was reached, Mr. Toward inquired as to the circumstances. Mr. Whitcomb explained that Miss Neal came in from Townsend on the anniversary of her husband's death and never been brought up to the Lowell standard for her grade of work. Other teachers, he said, draw half their work for nothing $10. He said that if a man were asked for her place, he would have to be paid $100 or $150, and that she is doing a man's work.

Miss Neal's Salary
At a meeting of the committee on teachers and salaries held in June, it was decided that no teachers' salaries be raised this year. Mr. Toomey, however, moved that in view of the fact that Miss Neal is doing the work of a grammar master, that the board rescind, in her favor, the vote of last June. It was ing the past year. All the old janitors were also re-elected.

Transportation for Children

On the recommendation of the superintendent, it was voted to give transportation tickets to seven pupils of the ninth grade from the Riverside to the Colburn school, to relieve the congestion at the former school and round out the numbers in that grade in the latter. This vote was made in ratification of the action of the superintendent, which had previously been sustained by the committee on teachers.

Resignations of Mrs. Eva Magoon Lamb of the Asenham Street school and Mrs. Katherine G. O'Sullivan of McQueeney of the Highland, were accepted.

Mr. Whitcomb presented a petition from scholars and graduates of the Lowell Evening High school, asking that Mr. Thomas G. Robbins be elected principal for the coming year. The petition was referred to the committee on evening schools, on motion of Franklin Johnson.

On the recommendation of the superintendent it was voted that the evening schools of the city open Monday, Oct. 15.

Translating Birth Records

Mr. Whitcomb asked the consideration of the board in the matter of the translation of birth records for foreigners. In the case of the Polish and Portuguese records the respective priests are willing to translate free of charge, as an accommodation to their people. The question as it applies to the Greeks, however, is a bothersome one. No one has come forward to do that work for the Greeks and there have been rumors of exorbitant prices charged the poorer Greeks for that work, the work of translation which is necessary in order that the Greek families may obtain work. So general have been the complaints relative to the exorbitant charges in this matter with the Greeks, that a local lawyer suggested that it would be a good thing to have the charges investigated, an investigation of the school department along this line.

It was voted that a committee of three be appointed by the chair to investigate the matter and report at the next meeting.

Mr. Swampy said he would appoint after consultation with the superintendent.

Mr. Toward moved that there be no further increase in salaries for one year from date. It was so voted. Franklin Johnson in the negative.

Adjourned.

PRES. ROOSEVELT

May Decide to Take the Stump for Candidate Taft

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—The president yesterday held his second cabinet meeting since his return to Washington from his summer vacation, and the meeting yesterday, like that of last week, was largely devoted to the consideration of the political question.

Cabinet Divided
Although the president has said that he would not make any campaign speeches there is a division among the members of the cabinet as to the wisdom of that decision. Some of them are of the opinion that the president can, with perfect propriety, take the stump and advocate the claims of the man whose nomination he brought about, and they see no difference between the president telling the public by word of mouth what he thinks of Mr. Taft and what very poor opinion he has of Mr. Bryan or doing the same thing through the columns of a newspaper.

On the other hand there are members of the cabinet who are firmly opposed to the president going on the stump and who think it would do more harm than good. Sen. Root, it is understood, takes this view and in this he is strongly supported by Sec. Cortelyou, while Sec. McCall is represented as believing that if the president made a swing around the western circuit and closed his tour in a blaze of red fire and pyrotechnical display in New York a day or two before the election he could sit back in the White House on the night of the third of November and find nothing to criticize in the returns.

Letter Writing Opposed
The president is more optimistic than his cabinet. No member believes that Mr. Taft is in danger of defeat, but they do not believe Mr. Taft has a walkover, and they would like to make assurance doubly sure by the direct appeal of the president to the voters. But in view of the president's announced determination not to go on the stump, it is not at all likely that he will change it.

It would, of course, subject him to very severe criticism and give the democrats another chance to attack him, which the campaign managers do not think wise.

For the same reason, it is known in Washington, some of the campaign managers are opposed to the president writing any more letters, or in any way taking notice of future attacks from Mr. Bryan or any one else. They say nothing is to be gained by it and the president's great activity relegates Mr. Taft to second place, which is harmful.

Whether the president can be induced to abstain from his well-known love of controversy and "going" for his opponents will be seen after Mr. Bryan's latest reply to the president is made public.

BEAUTY DOCTOR

ADVISES WOMEN TO DEVELOP Bust Measurement and Rounds the Arms and Neck.

(By Clare Belle M.)

"Speaking from my own personal experience and from observation of many whom I have successfully treated in the past two years, I should say that Madame Moncaux really owes her great success as a beauty specialist to the use of a simple preparation which is used exclusively to develop the bust, arms and neck. I became acquainted with this formula and have used it ever since, much to the delight of patrons. I now buy the ingredients in wholesale quantities, although any well stocked drug store can supply them."

"If your bust lacks development or firmness you can rely on both increase and firmness from the persistent use of the following: Obtain of the druggist two ounces of glycerine and one ounce tincture Cadomene compound, mix and let it stand several hours; then add a teaspoonful of borax and three ounces of rose water. Shake well and apply to the neck, arms and bust, rubbing and massaging until it is completely absorbed; then wash the parts treated with very hot water and soap and dry thoroughly. Apply the treatment morning and night regularly for several weeks or months as the case may require, and the most exquisite firmness and rounding of hollow places will reward you."

"It is the re-freshing fullness and exquisite firmness of the feminine form that attracts, and it is the well developed woman who captivates, charms and retains the affections and endorsements of the opposite sex. If you are observing, you know this is true."

TEN RAILROADS

Were Indicted for Receiving Rebates

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Lists of ten railroads and five shippers indicted for receiving rebates, with several traffic officials indicted and corporations convicted of giving or receiving rebates, all during this year, are embodied in a letter received by President Roosevelt and made public by him yesterday. The letter is from Attorney John H. Marble of the Interstate commerce commission, pointing out to the president that the latter in his reply to William J. Bryan, issued last Sunday, did not include the work of the year 1905 in the mention of prosecutions under the interstate commerce law, and saving the facts are even more impressive than the reply shows. The letter says:

"So far as reports received by the division of prosecutions of this commission indicate, indictments for rebating have been found against railroads during the present year as follows:

LETTERS STOLEN

Standard Oil Man Says His Files Were Rifled

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—A new phase of the discussion of the so-called "Standard oil correspondence" made public recently by William R. Hearst was entered late yesterday, when John D. Archbold, vice president of the Standard Oil company, made a statement, setting forth details of the alleged theft of correspondence from his files.

Ex-U. S. Senator John Loomis McLaurin of South Carolina also entered the field with a signed statement, declaring his attitude in the matter of the correspondence between himself and Mr. Archbold.

Mr. Archbold said:

"In response to many inquiries as to the theft of letters from my files, the following may be made known: Over three years ago a report reached me that certain of my letters had been offered for sale to newspapers of this city, avowedly as stolen letters. Examination showed that they could only have been taken by someone not only familiar with the office details, but highly trusted.

Number Taken Not Known

"The party on whom suspicion fell stoutly denied all guilt. A little later, however, a man who represented himself as acting between the thief and those to whom the letters had been sold proposed to return some of the letters for a consideration. His story was that the idea of the theft had been conceived by his brother, who had been at one time in the company's employ, and that this brother had induced the employee already suspected to accomplish the theft.

"According to the go-between's story, he had disposed of the letters or some of them to two men who purchased them on behalf of Mr. Hearst's newspaper, the Journal. Not only had stolen letters been thus traded for, but the thief was induced to carry off one or more letter copying books, many of whose pages he claims were photographed, other pages being removed altogether.

"The books in question were, the go-between said, returned after 48 hours. It is impossible to say how many were stolen and sold in this way. It is not known to me how many to say more at present or to mention names.

No Apologies, Says McLaurin

"Corroboration of the go-between's story of three years ago lay in his return of some of the correspondence at the time. The production of stolen letters by Mr. Hearst is further corroborated now. Obviously, among such a coterie, authenticity of their output is not to be lightly accepted. The opportunities for falsification, suppression of context, distortion of passages, are many."

HUNTING SEASON

Will Be in Full Swing Thursday

The hunting season will be in full swing this week. The open season for shooting partridge, woodcock, quail hares and rabbits will go into effect Thursday, October 1.

The fox-hunting season as recognized by the majority of Lowell fox hunters will also open on that date. Early Thursday morning the woods and fields will be alive with sportsmen and others carrying guns after the long wait through the summer months.

From present indications there will be an unusually large number of hunters out and, as is usually the case, the number in the woods and fields on that day will be larger than on any other day of the season.

There is something about the opening day of the hunting season, like the fishing season, that attracts men that seldom go out again during the remainder of the hunting season and many who have never before assayed the part of minnows.

The majority of the hunters out on the first day are bird hunters though the beginners usually bang away at everything in sight. There are conflicting reports this year as to the probabilities of a successful bird hunting season.

Reports are heard from sections of the country that partridges are as plentiful as they ever were, while other sportsmen who have made numerous trips through their favorite hunting grounds recently, say that the partridges are few and far between and the few that are to be found are as wild as hawks and have already taken to the thick woods.

It will be a short bird hunting season this year, as the open season on partridge, woodcock and quail will close November 1, which is considered of satisfactory length by the majority of the sportsmen. Reports pretty generally agree that there are practically no quail in the covers in this vicinity and that the native woodcock are as scarce. The flight woodcock are always an unknown quantity in numbers, but the sportsmen say the flights have been growing smaller and smaller each year.

The number of hares and rabbits in the woods remain about the same as last year, and the real hunting season for these animals does not really begin till the first snow fall. The cottontail rabbits are always as plentiful as the big white hares are scarce. In one or two localities a couple of years ago there was an increase in the number of white hares was noticed by the hunters but has been left alone by the hunters for some time. Some of these coveys were practically cleaned out last winter, and big tracks in the snow in these places this winter will be few and far between.

Lowell sportsmen have been perusing recently the pocket edition of the fish and game laws issued by the Massachusetts fish and game protective association. According to this year's laws the shooting of gray squirrels is prohibited, and Mongolian, English and golden pheasants are not to be shot at any time.

The same also applies to insectivorous and song birds, eagles, fish hawks, marsh hawks, small owls, upland plovers and wild pigeons, herons, bitterns, all gulls and terns.

The sale of partridge, prairie chickens and woodcock is prohibited, as also is quail killed in the state. Sending game out of the state is prohibited. The killing or possessing of a pinnated grouse or hen is prohibited and carries a $100 fine for conviction.

Next week is Quarter Week at the Five Cent Savings bank. Deposits placed upon interest Saturday, Oct. 3.

BIG PARADE

OF ESSEX COUNTY T. A. U. TAKES PLACE IN HAVERHILL

The annual parade of the Essex county T. A. Union in observance of the birthday of Rev. Theobald Mathew will take place in Haverhill on Saturday, October 10th, and will be an imposing affair. Quite a number of Lowell people will go down to Haverhill to witness the demonstration.

No Parade in Lowell

There will be no parade in Lowell this year in observance of Fr. Mathew day, October 10th. The Mathews will, however, observe the day with a lecture on Sunday, October 11th, by a prominent speaker. It is said that the total abstinence leaders would like to have a big parade here in October, 1909.

THE GAME LAWS

Some of the Changes Made

After an impatient wait of many months, sportsmen who are anxious to inform themselves of the change in game laws are able to secure pamphlets containing a summary of the game legislation passed by the last legislature and existing laws not affected by the acts of 1908.

The fish and game commissioners have issued the pamphlets.

The majority of sportsmen know in a general way that several important changes in the game laws were made by the last legislature, but have not had the opportunity to inform themselves as to the particulars of the changes, and as the hunting season is drawing near, they began to get impatient for the publication of the pamphlets that they might inform themselves of the laws and take no chances when the time came to go into the field and try their luck and skill in the pursuit of game birds or animals.

Perhaps the change in the laws that will arouse the most interest is that in relation to the taking of game birds, particularly the partridge. This year for the first time the shooting season on game birds is limited to the month of October. The season on all species is contemporaneous. For the last few years this has not been the case, the open seasons on the quail and partridge differing. But this year game birds of all kinds that may be killed can be killed in October only. The ruffed grouse, commonly called the partridge, woodcock and quail.

The pheasants cannot legally be killed at all. For the last two years it has been legal to kill male Mongolian pheasants during November, but this sport is denied hunters this year.

The sale prohibition law has been extended this year to quail and woodcock. For several years it has been unlawful to sell partridge at any time, even during the open season for shooting of that species. In the draft of the new act the same provision is made with reference to woodcock and quail, so that it is now unlawful to sell only species of the game bird that is commonly hunted in this section.

Another prohibition that will have a wide effect is that on gray squirrels. There is now a two-year close season on gray squirrels, which will not be legitimate prey for the shooter until October 1, 1910. For the last year or two there was a two months' open season on gray squirrels. Before that the season was contemporaneous with that on hares and rabbits. But it's different now. No change has been made in the open season on that species of running game, the shooting extended from October 1 to March 1. But grays cannot be killed at any time, neither can a gray killed in this state be sold.

No change was made in the law relative to dogs running deer, which are probably the least understood of any of the game laws. Under those laws only an officer has a right to kill a dog chasing deer and then only when the dog is kept for that purpose, or pursues deer with the knowledge and consent of the owner.

The owners of dogs are thus afforded better protection than many of them believe they are, as cases are rare where dogs are used to chase deer. It is usually an accident that happens to a fox hunter whose hound may strike a hot deer track, which is regretted more by the hunter than anybody else, as his day's sport is spoiled by the time lost in getting his hound off the deer track.

One of the important additions to the laws is the resident hunter's license. Hitherto there has been a law requiring non-residents to take out a license. But residents of the state, who are also citizens, have enjoyed the privilege of gunning without cost.

The license law won't trouble the bird hunters this fall, as it does not go into operation until Jan. 1, which was an afterthought of some members of the legislature in making an amendment to the law originally proposed. The law does not go into operation until Jan. 1, so that the only hunters in this section who will be affected are the rabbit hunters. They will be forced to take out a license if they hunt after Jan. 1, which will be good until Jan. 1 of the following year. The cost of the resident hunter's license is $1.

The resident hunter's license law is little understood, as is shown by the discussion that has been heard among hunters as the open season on game is drawing near. "Will fox hunters have to take out a license for Jan. 1?" is frequently asked. Some hunters believe they will, but those with a better understanding of the laws have maintained fox hunters won't have to trouble themselves, as foxes are not game in the accepted sense of that term.

The reading of the resident hunter's license law makes it plain enough that fox hunters need not take out a license. The law covering that reads:

"No citizen of the United States, resident in Massachusetts, shall hunt, pursue, take or kill any bird or quadruped protected by law, without first having obtained a certificate of registration."

Foxes are not protected by law and consequently the fox hunter will not have to take out a license.

Non-residents cannot hunt foxes without a non-resident hunter's license as the section relating to the hunting by non-residents says they shall not hunt any wild animal, wild fowl or bird, which is different from "birds or quadrupeds protected by law."

In another year the latter will probably be changed to wild animals and birds, as that has been the scheme of the commission as shown in the modification of the Sunday hunting law, which used to read "game birds and animals," but now reads "wild animals of game."

Not a little discussion has been heard among hunters regarding the right of search of game warden, as it has been generally known some sort of legislation was enacted on this point at the last session.

The commission endeavoring to secure a stringent right of search measure, and the committee of the legislature favored, but the house couldn't listen to the proposition. However, the legislature passed a bill, which is:

"A commissioner on fisheries and game or any duly authorized deputy commissioner, receiving a salary from the commonwealth, may request of any person whom said commissioner or deputy commissioner reasonably believes to be engaged in the taking, killing, hunting, or snaring of fish, birds or animals, contrary to law, that such person shall forthwith display for the inspection of such commissioner or deputy commissioner, any and all fish, birds and animals then in his possession; and upon refusal to comply with such request said commissioner or duly authorized deputy commissioner may arrest without warrant the person so refusing."

The act doesn't give the unpaid deputies any authority in this respect. Hardly any of the other changes in the game laws will bear on hunters in the central section of the state.

POLICE OFFICER Was Dismissed For Not Being Civil in Boston Yesterday

BOSTON, Sept. 30.—"Any person who puts a civil question to a Boston policeman must be assured of a civil answer. Common sense, a decent regard for the rights of the people who pay his salary, the regulations of the department and the frequent admonitions of the commissioner in the past two years take from a policeman all possible excuse for misconduct of this kind," says Commissioner O'Meara in a general order issued last night. William Curran, a division 7 patrolman, was dismissed for refusing to answer a civil question concerning a street car put to him by a citizen, and as he had been before a police trial board on two previous occasions within a year, the commissioner refused to approve the present board's recommendation of further punishment and dismissed the officer.

According to the testimony upon which Patrolman Curran was convicted before the trial board, he not only refused to answer a citizen's question, but after walking away returned to his questioner and used insulting language. Patrolman Curran's defense was a general denial.

The trial board found that the officer's testimony was contradicted by a witness who had every reason to be favorable to him.

GRANITEVILLE

The town men of Graniteville are busily engaged with teams in repairing Broadway, in that village the work being done under the direction of Angus McDonald, superintendent of streets. While the work is progressing it is understood that the town cannot be completed this year owing to the lack of the required appropriation.

P. Henry Harrington, the local contractor and builder, has practically finished the Cameron school building in Forge Village, and Joe Wall, the painter, has a force of men at work painting the outside a colonial white. He will also do the interior painting and decorating.

CHELMSFORD

On Saturday next the fall meeting of the North Middlesex Federation of Young People's societies will be held at the First Parish church in Thetford. Addresses will be made by Rev. Frederick B. Griffin of Thetford and Rev. L. I. Green of Chelmsford. Mr. Green's subject will be "Personality in Church Work." The delegates chosen to represent the Federation society at Chelmsford are Miss Eliza Spaulding, Miss Elizabeth Warren, Miss Ruth Adams, Homer W. Sweetser and William E. Adams. In addition to these many other members of the society will probably be in attendance.

Interesting Items From Mill Centres

UNION & C. Sept. 30.—Thomas C. Duncan, formerly president of the Union-Buffalo and other cotton mills, has been arrested here on a warrant charging him with receiving money from the People's bank of this city under false pretences, and with intent to cheat and defraud. Bond in the sum of $1500 was required and furnished.

The facts as nearly as can be ascertained are that in December of 1906 Duncan obtained from the People's bank the sum of $1515 in payment of a check or draft upon a bank in Spring City, Tennessee, where Duncan was then doing business, and there was no money in Spring City bank to pay the check. It is alleged that the check was drawn by the American Lime Co. at the instance of T. C. Duncan, who is supposed to have been at the head of that company.

WAUREGAN MILLS RESUME

WAUREGAN, Conn., Sept. 30.—The Wauregan cotton mills have started on full time with a complement of 639 hands. The mill has been idle for two weeks. The Quinbaug cotton mill at Danvers has also gone on a full time schedule. At Plainfield there is being completed a $100,000 addition to the Union mills, which will mean the employment of several hundred additional hands.

WORKING ON MAYO MILL DOVER, N.H. Sept. 30.—Work is progressing rapidly on Mayo & Son's new woolen mill, which is building in Foxcroft. The wheel pit has been completed, the wheels set and the wheel-house is now being erected. The work on the mill building was a very good start. The method of constructing a reinforced concrete building is now in this section and the work is being watched with a great deal of interest. Mayo & Son are having the use of the rock crusher, owned by the town of Foxcroft, and are turning out a great amount of crushed rock each day, which is to be used in the concrete walls.

HEAVY LOSS TO FACTORY FORT DODGE, Ia., Sept. 30.—Fire destroyed the Mulrooney Manufacturing company's plant here recently, with a loss estimated at over $125,000. The building was a three-story brick and contained stock valued at over $30,000. The company manufactured skirts, overalls and other men's goods. The buildings and contents are completely ruined. The loss on the building is $35,000 and on the machinery $20,000. The total loss above the insurance is estimated to be between $30,000 and $40,000.

Bryan Once More Gets After President Roosevelt

He Says That, if Elected He Will Enforce the Law Against Trusts — He Challenges President to Make Public the Contributions Raised by Mark Hanna in 1896

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., Sept. 29.—W. J. Bryan fired another volley from his typewriter at President Roosevelt last night in reply to the 1000-word onslaught from the White House on Sunday.

Mr. Bryan changed his mind yesterday morning about answering the president's first plan being to disprove of the president's own words in a brief statement to the public. He decided to say what he had to say to the president direct.

In his reply he challenges comparison of his own record with that of the president. If elected he declares he will enforce the laws against trusts, "not spasmodically and intermittently, but persistently and consistently."

"They will not be suspended even for the protection of cabinet officers," he adds curtly, referring to the presidential whitewashing of J. Paul Morton.

Concerning the president's accusation intended to connect him with law-defying trusts, he says:

"I have lived in vain if your accusations lose me a single friend."

Referring to the president's mention of the contributions to his campaign fund of 1896, he challenges Mr. Roosevelt to make public the republican contributions made to Mr. Hanna that year.

"I am willing to have both funds

connect the democratic party, and me, as its candidate, with the trusts.

Humblest Citizen's Right

"I asked you to name a tribunal before which the charge could be investigated, or, if you would not do that, offered to leave it to you to say whether, in your judgment, the charges justified Mr. Haskell's withdrawal from the organization. You did not deign to suggest a tribunal, but proceeded to pass judgment upon him."

"He immediately resigned his position that he might be free to prosecute those who brought accusations against him. Thus, his connections with the organization ended. I had no authority to submit to you the question of his guilt or innocence for fiscal decision."

"Even the president cannot deny to the humblest citizen of the land the right to protect his reputation and indicate his name in courts established for the purpose, where witnesses can be examined and evidence submitted according to the rules of law."

"In my first letter to you I resented the imputation that any charges made against Gov. Haskell could be justly construed as connecting the democratic party or me, as its candidate, with any trust or law-defying corporation."

"My Record Sufficient Answer"

"You replied that the charges were a matter of general notoriety, and I asked you why Mr. Taft did not mention them when he made speeches against Mr. Haskell in Oklahoma. You at once endeavored to connect me with the charges which arose after the Denver convention, and, conscious that those charges were insufficient, you have since given wings to accusations that no disinterested party would make against another without investigation."

"I am willing that all your charges against me shall be submitted to the voters of the country, and with your charges I submit my denial of any knowledge or information that could, in the remotest way, connect me with any trust, monopoly or law-defying corporation."

"My record is sufficient answer to your insinuations. I challenged you to name a trust official who is supporting me, and after searching the country you produce the name of one man, not a trust official, but the local attorney of a trust."

Two Standards of Measure

"Without inquiring whether he votes for me because of his connection with a trust or in spite of it, or because of his fear of business adversity" under Mr. Taft, you accept his statement that he will vote for me as conclusive proof that I am in league with the trusts, although you admit that trust officials are supporting the republican ticket."

"You compliment me when you measure me by a higher standard than you do your political associates, for you insist that Mr. Roosevelt's contribution to Gov. Hughes' campaign fund was no reflection upon him, and I take for granted that you do not criticize Judge Taft's recommendation of a Standard Oil attorney to the federal bench, a place where the judge might have to pass on the charges against the very trust for which he had been attorney."

Not Even for Cabinet Officers

"While the trust attorney to whom you refer is not an official of a trust, I will warn him, and through him his clients, that if I am elected I will not only vigorously enforce against all offenders the laws which we hope to have enacted in compliance with the democratic platform, but that I will also vigorously enforce existing laws against any and all who violate them, and that I will enforce them, not spasmodically and intermittently, but persistently and consistently; they will not be suspended, even for the protection of cabinet officers."

"You say the attitude of many men of large financial interest warrants 'in expressing the belief that those trust magnates whose fear of being prosecuted under the law by Mr. Taft is greater than their fear of general business adversity' under me, will support me rather than Mr. Taft."

Ingenious, but Not Sound

"You have attempted to word that statement in such a way as to claim the support of all the trust magnates, and yet put it on the ground that they are supporting your party for patriotic reasons, rather than for the promotion of a selfish interest. This is ingenious, but it is not sound. The trust magnates are supporting the republican party and the Bible offers an explanation: 'The ox knoweth his owner and the ass his master's crib.'"

"You admit that you gave permission to the steel trust to absorb a rival and thus increase its control of the output of steel and iron products. I will leave the American people to pass judgment upon that act and compare your position on the trust with your information."

"You refer to our campaign fund in 1896 and accuse us of allowing two men to contribute largely to the small fund with which the committee conducted the campaign. I am not sure about the figures because I have not seen them. If the carrying out of party's purpose is the carrying out of party's purpose, but I was informed that the largest of the two sums which you mention was not all contributed by the man to whom it was credited, but included contributions from others as well as that which he gave himself."

"But if you want to be fair, why do you not give the amount of the republican campaign fund that year and the sources of it? I am willing to have both funds published; are you? If not, then the carrying out of party's purpose is the carrying out of party's purpose, but I was informed that the largest of the two sums which you mention was not all contributed by the man to whom it was credited, but included contributions from others as well as that which he gave himself."

Publish Both Funds of 1896

"If you will remember, the democratic platform, candidly declared the need of a trust which the carrying out of party's purpose is the carrying out of party's purpose, but I was informed that the largest of the two sums which you mention was not all contributed by the man to whom it was credited, but included contributions from others as well as that which he gave himself."

"If you will remember, the democratic platform, candidly declared the need of a trust which the carrying out of party's purpose is the carrying out of party's purpose, but I was informed that the largest of the two sums which you mention was not all contributed by the man to whom it was credited, but included contributions from others as well as that which he gave himself."

"If you will remember, the democratic platform, candidly declared the need of a trust which the carrying out of party's purpose is the carrying out of party's purpose, but I was informed that the largest of the two sums which you mention was not all contributed by the man to whom it was credited, but included contributions from others as well as that which he gave himself."

Mote and the Beam

"You certainly pay more attention to the mote than to the beam when you find fault with our national campaign fund in 1896 and ignore the significance of a fund almost as large, which, at your request, was collected from a few persons in 1901 and was used in the fund collected by the trusts."

"But your letter presents a defence of your party's position and an accusation against the voters which emphasize an issue already prominent. You are the first conspicuous member of your party to attempt an explanation of the party's position to publication before the election, and the admission which you make will embarrass your party associates."

"Your position is that the publication before election of the contributions made to your campaign fund would furnish your political opponents an opportunity to give false impression as to the fitness of the candidates."

Explanation in Bible

"You cite as illustrations the contributions made to Gov. Hughes' campaign fund, the contributions collected by Mr. Harriman and the contributions which are now being collected for Mr. Taft's campaign fund. You charge in effect, that the people are so lacking in intelligence that they might condemn as improper contributions which you declare to be proper. If the voters differ with you on this question are they necessarily ignorant and wrong?"

"Must the members of the party organization act as self-appointed guardians of the people and conceal from them what is going on, lest the people be misled as to the purpose and effect of large contributions? Is this your explanation of the action of the republican leaders in the national campaign in voting down a publicity plank?"

Not For Patriotic Moves

"You attempt to make a personal question of it and ask whether any one will accuse such men as you, Gov. Hughes and Mr. Taft of being influenced by contributions. That is not the question. If it is found that a money to one of the jurors, the court does not stop to inquire whether or not the juror is an incorruptible man or whether on accepting the money he explicitly stated that it was accepted with the understanding that he was making up his verdict."

"The court would hold that the giving of money by an interested party or the receiving of money was a contempt of court and an interference with the administration of justice."

"Public officials occupy much the same position as jurors. They are constantly called upon to decide questions on the one hand and the people on the other, and there is a very general impression that officials of those favoring corporations do not put up large sums of money from purely patriotic motives."

People Have Right to Know

"Mr. Havemeyer testified before a senate committee some years ago that the sugar trust made it a business to contribute to campaign funds and that it was its custom to give to the party in power in the state. I do not mean to say that Mr. Hughes was influenced by the contributions to him by the trust magnates whose names were given in the after-election report."

"I do not mean to say that you were influenced by the contributions collected by Mr. Harriman, neither do I mean to say that Mr. Taft will be influenced by the contributions that are being made to his fund by the trust magnates; but I do mean to say that the American people have a right to know what contributions are being made, that they may judge for themselves the motives of the givers and the obligations imposed upon those who receive."

"The reflection upon the people involved in your charge that they would misuse the knowledge which publicity would give is unworthy of one who has been elevated to so high an office by the votes of the people, and I venture an assertion that you cannot procure from Mr. Taft an indorsement of your defence."

"Reflection on People
"He is now before the people; he is offering himself as a candidate for the presidency; he dare not tell the people to whom he appeals that they have not sense enough to form a just and correct opinion as to the purpose which leads parties interested in special legislation to make big contributions before the election."

"You fear that we would misrepresent the motives of those who are contributing to the republican campaign fund and cast an unjust suspicion upon republican candidates if the names and amounts were made known before the election."

"Your argument, if sound, would prevent publication after the election; for why should an unjust suspicion be cast on officials after the election any more than before? Does not the secrecy before the election increase this suspicion?"

"Misrepresent, if You Like
"We are going to give you an opportunity to misrepresent the motives of those who give to our campaign fund, and to arouse all the suspicion you can; we are going to prove to the people that we are making a fight for the whole people and not for those who have been enjoying privileges and favors at the hands of the government; and we expect that the honest sentiment of the country will rebuke the party whose convention refused to indorse any kind of publicity and whose candidates are not willing that the people should know until after the polls are closed what predatory interests have been active in support of the republican party. With great respect, etc."

"Yours truly,
"William J. Bryan."

CHILDREN'S HOME

"The first week in October will be observed as donation week and friends are requested to send contributions. Groceries, apples, vegetables of all kinds and money are always acceptable. These children, 40 in number, are well fed and clothed, which speaks well for our friends. The work is supported by public charity and small weekly amounts paid for the care of some of the children. All gifts, large or small, are gratefully received and promptly acknowledged."

The noon meeting will be conducted today by Miss Chapin. All women are invited to spend a few quiet moments of rest and thoughtfulness in the recreation room at this time.

A number of the ministers who are attending the New England conference of the Evangelical association are taking their dinner and supper at the association. The dining room is a very crowded place these days, and a very popular one, under the able management of Mrs. Munsey.

The association has been very fortunate in securing the services of Miss Elvina Bell of Westford street to teach the embroidery classes this fall. Miss Bell will teach both beginning and advanced pupils. The many beautiful stitches so much in vogue now will be taught as rapidly as it is possible for the pupils to take the work. This is a splendid opportunity to learn to make dainty Christmas presents.

Those who are planning to enter any of the classes should register soon, as only a limited number can be accommodated in some of the classes. The arts and crafts class will be announced later.

CLEARS THE COMPLEXION - OVER NIGHT

Pimples, Rash, Eruptions, Etc., Quickly Eradicated by New Skin Remedy.

Since its discovery one year ago, posolap, the new skin remedy, has, in its extraordinary accomplishments, exceeded the most sanguine expectations of the eminent specialist who gave it to the world. It has cured thousands of cases of eczema and eradicated facial and other disfigurements of years' standing. The terrible itching attending eczema is stopped with the first application, giving proof of its curative properties at the very outset.

In less serious skin affections, such as pimples, rash, herpes, blackheads, acne, barber's itch, etc., results show after an overnight application, only a small quantity being required to effect a cure. Those who use posolap for these minor skin troubles can now avail themselves of the special 60-cent package, recently adopted to meet such needs. Both the 50-cent package and the regular $2 jar may now be obtained at Lowell at Falls & Burkhaw's, Carter & Sherburne's, and other leading drug stores.

Samples for experimental purposes may be had free of charge by writing direct to the Emergency Laboratories, 22 West Twenty-fifth street, New York

BOSTON, Sept. 30.—Matly Baldwin of Charlestown and Tommy Murphy of New York fought 12 rounds to a draw at the Armory Athletic club last night. Baldwin did the heaviest part of the fighting until the last two rounds when Murphy gained the decided advantage and came near finishing the Charlestown boy.

The originators, on learning that Dorando had contracted with a Milan, Italy, bioscope firm for a music hall representation of the Marathon race, disapproved him as either a starter or a judge, but the event was not affected by their attitude. The grants included a medal for the winner. A medal was made for the losers. A medal was also given to the runner who was the last to finish, thus eliminating a number of them who would be Marathon runners. The course was 42 kilometers in length. The race was won by Losti of Milan, in 2 hours 34 minutes, 6 seconds. Frasnich of Dorando was second.

Dorando is now arranging with Johnny Hayes, the winner of the Olympic Marathon race, for a race, which will probably be run at New York. Meanwhile he will see the Seccola for using his name in the recent

HASKELL'S RESIGNATION.

In resigning his office as treasurer of the national democratic committee, Governor Haskell of Oklahoma says he does so in order that he may not embarrass Mr. Bryan and not because he acknowledges the charges brought against him to be true. Haskell, we surmise, will clear his skirts of the main charges and get back at Roosevelt and Hearst before the campaign closes. His first step is to sue Hearst, but the issue will hardly be decided in time to secure a vindication before election. Thus the republican muck rakers may deceive the people by false charges.

ROOSEVELT AS A CALAMITY SHOUTER.

President Roosevelt in his domineering attitude towards the democratic candidate, is showing the most ridiculous and the most unscrupulous partisanship.

Indeed he seems to be the whole republican party, and to be personally conducting the campaign. The wrath with which he meets any assault on his man Taft is indicative of his amphibious character.

The aspect of the president doing so much bulldozing to secure the election of his man Taft is highly amusing. The voters are apparently not considered, and if they defeat Taft, as we expect they will, Roosevelt will simply foam at the mouth.

In the throes of a panic Roosevelt comes out to assert that it would be a calamity to the country to elect Mr. Bryan.

Roosevelt, himself, however, is the worst calamity this country has had for a long time. To elect a man of his selection and under his influence to carry out his policies would be to provide for a continuance of the present panic which is surely the worst calamity short of war this country has ever experienced.

VALUABLE SUGGESTIONS BY FIRE UNDERWRITERS.

The report of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, relative to things that should be done to lessen the fire risks and the destruction of property by fire, is quite comprehensive.

It recommends many changes that will be of use to our city government and the fire and water departments when undertaking improvements. It points the way to safety and progress without considering the expense.

Many of the other recommendations such, for example, as the prohibition that we can never hope to have. But the report suggests too many things within our reach that we can and should have. Among these are re-inspection of all old electric wiring. The engineers who examined the electric construction and wiring here have reported much of it as dangerous, and it is a fact that most of our large fires during the past few years were attributed to electric wires. We are paying a wire inspector. Here is something upon which he can occupy his spare time to good advantage and for the benefit of the city at large.

Many of the other recommendations, such, for example, as the protection of the fire alarm system and the enforcement of the building laws, are all of considerable importance, and should be heeded by the building department.

Will the city council take any action relative to this report or simply pass it by as a suggestion thrown out by some newspaper? We believe this report should be carefully studied by the heads of departments concerned and that where it may be deemed necessary by the city council, the recommendations made should be carried out.

CAUSE OF THE TYPHOID OUTBREAK.

The cause of the outbreak of typhoid fever seems to be a mystery, and yet we believe there is little reason for so regarding it.

How many people in this city have noticed a very foul odor emanating from the openings of sewers during the recent dry spell? Even on Merrimack square the odor from the manhole near the waiting station was unbearable for weeks.

What caused the odor? Simply the water which usually serves the purposes of preventing the odors from the sewer escaping into the open air had evaporated and then the gases from the sewer percolated through the solid matter to the outer air.

What happened at one manhole undoubtedly happened at scores of manholes throughout the city, and thus the cause of typhoid fever is explained.

There may have been minor causes, such as drinking bad water while on vacation, but what we have here assigned was undoubtedly the principal cause.

The city water has not caused the epidemic; the milk supply has not caused it, nor is the large number of cases due to what the doctors designate the "autumnal rise." The drought not only dried up the rivers, leaving the food matter in the river beds exposed to the air, but dried up the sewers so that there was not water enough for flushing, and the odors arising from solid matter escaped from the sewer openings.

The wonder is, that there is not more typhoid and more diphtheria. Now that the rain has started we may expect relief just as soon as there falls rain enough to flush the sewers and hold the foul odors from passing into the open air.

It would be well for the board of health and the sewer department to get their heads together and make some arrangement to prevent a recurrence of this experience every time we have a prolonged drought.

SEEN AND HEARD

The chesty man usually wears a small hat.

Many a man has a kick coming that never reaches him.

Is it the fickleness of women that makes them interesting?

Fiction by any other name would be falsehood just the same.

Flattery is harmless to the woman who doesn't flatter herself.

No, Cordelia, blunt sentences are not always written with a stub pen.

The older a man grows the surer he feels that he won't be found out.

Show a disposition to be an easy mark and everybody will help you make good.

The trouble with too many people is that they meet trouble more than half-way.

THE GIRL WHO SMILES

The wind was east and the chimney smoked.

And the old brown house seemed dreary.

For nobody smiled, and nobody joked. The young folks grumbled, the old folks croaked.

They had come home chilled and weary.

Then opened the door, and a girl came in.

Oh, she was homely—very! Her nose was pug, and her cheek was thin.

There wasn't a dimple from brow to chin—

But her smile was bright and cheery.

She spoke not a word of the cold or damp.

Nor yet of the gloom about her. But she mended the fire and lighted the lamp.

And she put on the place a different stamp.

From that it had without her.

They forgot that the house was a dull old place.

And smoky from base to rafters. And gloom departed from every face. As they felt the charm of her nightingale grace.

And the cheer of her happy laughter.

Oh, give me the girl who will smile and sing.

And make all glad together! To be plain or fair is a lesser thing. But a kind, unselfish heart can bring Good cheer in the darkest weather.

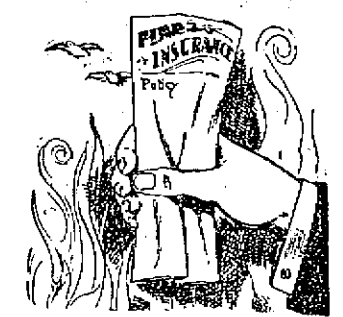

A cynic is a person who knows he is the real thing and that all others are merely imitations.

A girl may refuse a man because she feels sure that he will propose again, but a widow never takes any chances.

A woman always wants her neighbors to believe that she trusts her husband, even if she doesn't believe it herself.

Father Abraham in Broadway.

To thoroughly enjoy the little wind, rain, lightning and thunder storm, Monday night, one had to be in a cottage in the country. I was there, right by the lake side, and gee, how the wind did blow, and O, what a difference in the morning! The cottage was fairly lanked with fallen leaves and, although it was far from cold, one scented the winter from afar. The rainy-beating on the roof of an unplastered cottage is the greatest sleep producer in the world.

"Jim" Thompson, "Sunny Jim" is back from a visit to his old home in Virginia and is still wearing the smile that won't brush off and that wrinkles can't efface. While Jim was in Virginia somebody started the story that he was dead and the story spread to the Waverly hotel, where he was best known as a waiter. Great sorrow was expressed and letters were written to persons in Virginia seeking information concerning Jim's death. The story was believed and everybody who knew Jim was saying "Poor Jim, he was the best ever," and while his friends were anxious to learn what had happened and what could be done about it, Jim turned up in the flesh. That was yesterday, and like Mark Twain, Jim says that the news of his death was much exaggerated.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

EDUCATION OF MINERS

Poston Herald: Light has dawned in the minds of some managers of the Pennsylvania anthracite companies, and they are said to be planning to open schools in which operatives can be taught by experts how to save life and property and how to meet the technical and forced the exigencies of their dangerous calling. Better late than never. No disciplining, however strict, can defeat the perfect works of ignorance. An ounce of prevention in mining, as in everything else, is worth a pound of remedy. State supervision of obedience to law is cost and severity by such action as is now contemplated.

FOUR DAYS FLAT

Lawrence Eagle: Captain J. R. Watt, retiring commodore of the Cunard fleet, declares that the Lusitania, which recently established a new transatlantic record of four days, fifteen hours, can cross the big pond in four days flat. If the airship doesn't hurry up and arrive, all the speed records will be monopolized by the ocean greyhounds and the thunderbolt express.

MR. HASKELL'S WITHDRAWAL.

Johnstown Democrat: Gov. Haskell acted well in taking himself out of an impossible position. Few people will believe his guilt of the charges which Mr. Hearst made against him, and which Mr. Roosevelt elaborated. But he had artfully been made an issue in the campaign by the opposition and he could not remain in official connection with the national committee as its treasurer without menacing the interests of the party.

It is to be congratulated on and on. Homenage for the promptness with which he has relieved Mr. Bryan of a profound embarrassment. We cannot believe that Mr. Bryan has been persuaded of Gov. Haskell's guilt. The testimony against the governor is far from convincing. Only bitter and unscrupulous partisans have accepted it as conclusive. Papers like the Springfield Republican, which supports Mr. Taft without approving some of the things for which he stands and in spite of some of the methods which are being employed to force his election, are disposed utterly to discredit the case against the Oklahoman. They charge the president with unpardonable harshness in convicting him out of hand on the evidence presented and they do not conceal their fear that in so doing, he has committed a blunder which will seriously and perhaps fatally react on Mr. Taft.

However, Gov. Haskell could not stay in a position where he invited the fire of the enemy and where he served them as a needed diversion. He had become an issue in the campaign and was thus serving to draw attention away from the really vital points involved. He has therefore taken the only step that was open to him and he has left the way clear for the appointment of some one to the treasurer of the national committee who is free from entangling alliances and beyond the suspicion of corruption taint.

In 1890 he was Eastern art in the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston. He was long regarded an authority on the art, literature, history, philosophy and religions of China and Japan, and had written much on the subject. Professor Fenollosa was thrice decorated by the Mikado of Japan. Besides doing much writing, Professor Fenollosa had done considerable lecturing on his special subjects. It was he who founded the system of art instruction now in vogue at the Pratt Institute in Brooklyn, N. Y. He also had made a special study of the history of European art as found in the galleries, churches and private collections on the continent. Mrs. Fenollosa, it will be remembered, is the author of "Truth Dexter," "The Breath of the Gods," and "The Dragon Painter."

Writing of Richard Mansfield's ambition, Paul Whitstach says in Scribner's Magazine, that once in the lull of a dress rehearsal, the actor turned to him and said: "This responsibility and fatigue are overwhelming. See that bright, care-free, contented young fellow there! He only plays a second violin, yet he is happy. I can't understand it. If I played second fiddle I should want to play first. Then I should want to lead. But I should next want a bigger orchestra, and yet a bigger. One who conducts must be able to compose, and I should want to write magnificent music. If I attained success as a composer I should not be satisfied if I were not able to take first place."

"He was silent for he did not prefer always to admit of logical conclusions. In a moment he sighed and confessed: 'Then I should not be content.'

The accident that befell Mrs. Deslin, the singer, and that caused a concussion of the brain that for the present keeps her from the stage was the dropping of a signboard upon her head as she was passing in a street in Berlin.

AUTOMOBILE NOTES

Robert Lee Morrell, chairman of the contest committee of the Automobile Club of America, announced yesterday that H. A. Lozier had entered a Lezier car for the Grand Prix of the Automobile Club of America, which will be run at Savannah on next Thanksgiving day. It was learned that Mr. Lozier gave instructions to J. G. Perrin, designer of the Lozier cars, early last June to prepare design for a car to be entered in the Grand Prix event, as soon as the announcement was made by Chairman Morrell that international accepted conditions. The racer has been on the road since preliminary testing in the vicinity of the factory at Plattsburg, N. Y. When Mr. Lozier made the entry he gave no details of the construction of the car and did not name the driver. It is expected that the pilot will be Lozier drivers—Harcourt, Ralph Mulford, Tom Lynch and Henry Cobe. Chairman Morrell also announced that a second Buick machine had been entered in the club's light car race that is to be run at Savannah on Wednesday, November 25, the day before the Grand Prix contest. No driver was named for the Buick.

The membership committee of the Automobile Club of America reports the following applications for active membership: R. W. Cook, Jr., Garden City; Thomas N. Cuck, Greenwich, N. Y.; William C. DeLaney, Short Hills, N. J.; Peter H. B. Frellinghuysen, Raritan, N. J.; J. M. J. Pyne, Bernardsville, N. J.; M. O. Terry, Mamaroneck, N. Y.; and H. H. Bolomey, P. Cronkrite, W. E. Coffin, Bryan L. Kennedy, Norris W. Mundy, Louis H. Perlman, John H. Stearns, Jr., James Wilkinson and Clarence F. Wyckoff, all of New York city. Applications for associate or non-resident membership have been made by the following: Harold Fisher Brooks, Trenton, N. J.; the Hon. A. T. Clearwater, Kingston, N. Y.; Chas. Deering, Chicago; Ralph S. Hamilton, Providence, R. I.; E. C. McGee, Jacksonville, Fla.; Archibald J. McCull, Albany; John Lawrence Mauran, St. Louis; Michael M. Shomaker, Cincinnati; and Byron L. Smith, Chicago.

The membership committee reports that the membership of the club on September 22 was as follows: Honorary, 25; life, 31; active, 1322; associate, 34; subscribers to the bureau of tours, 250, the total being 2022. The good roads committee of the New Jersey Automobile and Motor Club at Newark has been working steadily for several months in an effort to secure the improvement of either the turnpike or plank road, between Jersey City and Newark. They have hopes that one or both of these roads will be put in better condition next year and that work will be started early in the spring.

In spite of the fact that he has driven about 20,000 miles during the past few years, Alfred Bowers, general manager of the American Motor Car Manufacturers Association, forgot one day recently that it is a good plan to retard the spark before cranking an engine. Luckily this forgetfulness on the part of Mr. Bowers was not responsible for any serious damage or injury, but Mr. Bowers has had to use a cane whenever he wished to do any walking.

C. F. Wyckoff, president of the Motor Racing Association, announced yesterday that the entrants in the twenty-four hour race of Brighton Beach next Friday and Saturday will have the same numbers their cars carried in the meet a few weeks ago. President Wyckoff mailed full instructions reading in part as follows:

"The racing arrangements for the Brighton Beach twenty-four hour race have been completed and it is hoped that they will prove to be more satisfactory than any heretofore attempted. Each camp will consist of four units: 'First, a sleeping tent, removed from

It will also contain a hospital tent under charge of a trained nurse and an official tent where a paddock judge may always be found."

Waldron Williams, chairman of the bureau of tours of the Automobile Club of America, has had the following information sent to members of the club and to subscribers to the bureau of tours:

"The authorities at Bridgeport, Conn., have agreed to determine if the driver has a license. The road race along the west bank of the Hudson river is finished from Haverstraw to Rockland county line, leaving a distance within Orange county of about six miles unfinished to West Point. This new road affords magnificent views and offers for eight and a half miles of macadam from New York city, either via Weehauken or Fort Lee ferry.

"The Albany Post road between Ossining and Peekskill is finished, with the exception of about 400 feet, and it is no difficulty in passing that short stretch. Members going east on Boston Post road are notified that owing to road construction a detour is necessary at Rye, N. Y. Just beyond brick pavement at Mamaroneck, instead of taking right fork down hill, keep straight ahead, taking left fork, into Harrison, following the marks of main travel, always bearing to the right.

"Owing to the fact that some of the hotels along the proposed route of the 'scenic tour,' where night stops were planned, were not willing to extend the season beyond October 1 the tour has been postponed until next summer."

One of the recent enactments of the state senate of Maryland permits an automobilist to appeal his case to a higher court if he considers that he has been unfairly treated by a police magistrate, and the first case of this kind was passed on a few days ago in the criminal court at Baltimore. It resulted in the acquittal of E. J. Whiteford, who had been fined $20 and costs for operating his car without a light and without the proper number tag on the rear of his car. It seems that while riding along one of Baltimore's avenues the night before last July 4, the light of the lamp was lost and Mr. Whiteford had no extra lamp with him. He lighted the two front oil lamps and informed the police of what had occurred. He was told by them to drive along carefully and sound his horn at frequent intervals. He followed these instructions, but a few days afterward he was arrested on a warrant charging him with operating his car without a light and without a proper number tag. He was fined in the lower court and appealed to the higher court, winning his case.

The secretary of the Albany Automobile Club recently sent the following notice to the members of the capital city organization:

"Because of disregard of the law, public safety and our understanding with the authorities, the supervisor of the town of Colonie has notified the Albany Automobile Club that drastic action is necessary. The operation of the speed traps is about to be resumed

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The regular meeting of Samuel H. Hines lodge, Knights of Pythias, was held last night and one application for membership was received. There was a lively discussion over the forming of a rank staff, but no decision was reached. The first game in a series of auction pitch was played and won by John Farley with a score of 32 points. He received a valuable oil painting. P. C. Joseph Kerr won the booty with a score of 15 points and received a jumbo pipe. The next game will take place next Tuesday.

The regular meeting of Pilgrim encampment, No. 4, I. O. O. F., was held Monday evening in the encampment hall, 1 O. O. F. Temple, Middlesex street. The committee on by-laws reported with a full code, which will be acted on at the next meeting. Action was taken regarding the place of meeting, and it was voted by a large majority to meet in the I. ## HOTEL KEEPERS

Appeared Before Police Board Last Night.

The regular meeting of the board of police was held last night and while there was but little business transacted during the open meeting matters of importance were discussed at the executive session.

The matter of reinstating former Patrolman Cook was discussed at considerable length but no action was taken.

Several hotel keepers walked the carpet and were warned about the manner in which they were conducting their Sunday business. Seven retail dealers were also summoned before the board for some slight infractions of the liquor law.

The open meeting was opened at 8:15 o'clock. An applicant for a second hand clothing dealer's license brought forth a protest from Supt. Moffatt, who stated that the dealer in Middlesex street at the present time had constantly failed to send in each morning a written report of the purchases made by them on the previous day in spite of all the department could do to enforce the rule.

As a result, the chief stated, stolen property purchased by such dealers could not be traced and had been taken out of town, and when the police had been notified of thefts it was too late for them to recover the goods. The board finally decided to grant the license for a probationary term of three months.

When the Bunker application for a wrestling match in which Young Prokos was scheduled to take part came before the board, Chief Moffatt had another objection. He said that he did not mind properly conducted matches, but that he found great fault with any such celebration as followed the last wrestling match in which the local Greek athlete took part and came out a victor.

The application for the match was laid on the table for a time as a result of what the superintendent said. The following minor licenses were granted:

Hawker and peddler—Alphonse Fortier, 3 Perry court, Middlesex street; George Taylor, 21 Oliver street; David Morse, 2 1/2 Canada street; George E. Smith, 74 Walker street.

Second hand clothing—Joseph Hammer, 275 Middlesex street. For term of three months.

Auctioneer—J. Newcomb Lake, 19 Hildreth building.

Common victualler—Ella Fitzsimmons, 242 Appleton street.

Junk collector—Max Lavine, 127 Howard street.

Transfer of billiards and pool license—William St. Jean, from 84 to 86 Allen street.

Leave to withdraw voted: Hawker and peddler—Harry Boncher, 3 Lilley avenue; Henry Crepeau, 160 Cushing street.

Surrendered and cancelled: Junk collector—George E. Smith, 74 Walker street.

Sixth class license as druggist—Leo D. Poinchaud of the 462 Moody street estate of Edward S. Houle.

Application laid on the table: Permit to conduct a wrestling match Charles P. Bunker Central street, at Associate hall for Tuesday evening, Oct. 6, 1908.

Why is it that no merchant can build up a large and successful business nowadays without advertising in the newspapers? Because people look to the newspapers for the announcements of the merchants. The dealer who does not make announcements to the people through the daily papers is soon forgotten by the buying public and quickly left behind in the race for business.

Talk to the people through the columns of The Sun and they will hear you in mind when they need anything in your line.

The Sun having the largest circulation in Lowell is therefore the cheapest and most effective advertising medium in the city. It is unquestionably

LOWELL'S GREATEST NEWSPAPER.

NIGHT EDITION

THE ANNUAL FAIR

Of the Middlesex North Was Opened Today

The Dracut grange hall and vicinity was the busy hive of industry all this forenoon and well into the early afternoon getting matters into ship-shape for the opening of the annual two days' fair of the Middlesex North Agricultural Society.

The lower floor of the Grange hall is devoted to poultry and while there is a good variety of fowl, the pigeon display is the largest and best in the history of the society.

On the second floor, which is devoted to the display of vegetables there is a rivalry in progress between the granges of Dracut, Chelmsford and Tewksbury. It was expected that Tyngsboro grange would be in evidence, but on the contrary, is conspicuous by its absence.

There is an unusually large display of mammoth squashes and pumpkins. The vegetable display of the Dracut grange is in charge of a committee with A. P. Bryant chairman. Of the other grange committees W. E. Lapham is chairman of the Chelmsford grange and George W. Trull of the Tewksbury.

In the upper hall there is an unusually large display of flowers with a big centre display of shrubbery from J. J. McManmon. On this floor is an attractive display of pies, cakes and breads and under competition for prizes.

Notable among the other features is the ball game between a team representing Dracut and one representing Pelham, the game to take place Thursday afternoon. There is great rivalry between the two towns, and the game ought to prove a corker. The Pelham promoters of the nine say they will have a surprise for the Dracut fans.

A feature that will interest the owners of horses is the special prize of $25 offered by the Lowell Humane society directors for the best kept workhorse exhibited. The horses must have been in the possession of the owner for at least six months past, and competent judges will decide upon the general condition of the animals, the point being that the humane society wishes to encourage a spirit of careful handling of workhorses. It is known that there is a number of extraordinarily fine workhorses in the Middlesex North district and a large number of entries is expected.

This feature will be judged this afternoon. Tonight between 8.30 and 9 o'clock a farmers' supper will be served.

ARREST SUSPECT

BOSTON, Sept. 30.—George Rollins, who claims to live at 51 Hammond street, Providence, was arrested today at the request of the Mansfield police and taken to that town as a suspect in connection with the death of Miss Florence M. Copeland who died there on Sept. 16 from a blow on the head. Miss Copeland was found bleeding profusely in her home about four p. m.

LARCENY CHARGE JUDGE BINGHAM

Preferred Against a May Decline Nomination for Governor

BOSTON, Sept. 30.—Frank Sturtevant who claims to be a stockbroker of Manchester, N. H., was arrested in this city today at the request of the Manchester police charged with larceny of $100 from a Manchester man named Boyd. Sturtevant said that Boyd gave him $100 but the speculation was unsuccessful and the money was lost. Sturtevant was held pending the arrival of officers from Manchester.

FISHERIES CONGRESS

WOODS HOLE, Sept. 30.—In connection with their examinations of New England fishery interests the delegates to the recent international fisheries congress at Washington today visited the chief station of the United States commission of fish and fisheries here, coming from Newport, R. I., on the commission's vessel, Fishhawk. The extensive biological laboratories, fish hatcheries and aquarium at the station attracted considerable attention among the delegates and the lobster beds were closely examined, particularly by the Japanese who are at present conducting experiments in their own country looking to the propagation of the crustacean in the waters of the Orient.

The experts will be in Boston tomorrow and in Gloucester Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. George E. Burns of Eighteenth street is attending the Music-Festival at Worcester, Mass.

THE ADVERTISEMENTS IN TODAY'S SUN OFFER SOME FINE BARGAINS FOR THURSDAY.

EDWARD BISVERT

A Former Resident of This City Killed at Farnham, P. Q.

The sad intelligence has been received in Lowell of the tragic death of a former well known Lowell resident, Edward Bisvert. The latter left Lowell about three months ago with his wife and eight children, the latter all under 13 years of age.

They located in West Farnham, P. Q. On Sunday evening at 6.50 o'clock Mr. Bisvert while out driving was thrown from his wagon which was hit by a passing locomotive on the Central Vermont railroad, and was instantly killed. The horse managed to clear itself out the wagon and it is supposed its fright dashed into a nearby pit and was drowned. At least the animal has not since been seen.

Mr. Bisvert leaves in Lowell a father, Jacques Bisvert of Aiken avenue, and brother, Jacques Bisvert of 363 Hight street. The deceased was well known in Lowell and was a stone masonry trade.

LOWELL MAN KILLED

Patrick Walsh Struck by Automobile in Oakland, Cal.

A telegram has been received in this city to the effect that Patrick Walsh, a resident of this city, and father of James and Luke Walsh, the well known plasterers, was killed yesterday in Oakland, Cal. No particulars relative to the accident have yet reached this city.

Mr. Walsh was a well known and highly respected resident of Centralville, his wife residing at 4 Hall place, off Corn street. Besides his wife he leaves to mourn his loss four sons, James and Luke, formerly of this city, but now of San Francisco, Thomas of New York and William of Manchester also a daughter, Mrs. Deignan of this city.

CRUISER YANKEE

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 30.—With the exception that a portion of the hull had been constructed and that she has been relieved of all unnecessary weight, the situation of the stranded cruiser Yankee was the same today as it was a week ago when she ran on Spindle rock during a heavy fog. The work of pumping the cruiser out had to be begun all over again, both compartments having been flooded as a protection against the heavy storm of Monday night and yesterday morning. There was no wireless communication with the cruiser all day yesterday but it was hoped to resume service late today after the dynamo, located in one of the flooded compartments were got into working order. It had been expected that the first attempt to haul the Yankee off Spindle rock would be made today but the situation following the storm precluded all hopes of this and it will probably be the end of the week before this will be possible.

It is the general opinion among the naval officials and shipping interests here that the Yankee has seen the last of her days as an active member of the United States navy. She has been subjected to a constant pounding and battering for almost a week and her hull is believed to be badly strained; it is probable that in the future she will be overhauled and sent to one of the navy yards for service as a receiving ship.

GREAT BATTLE ON FISHING TRIP

Being Waged in the Big 25 Centralville Braves After Big Catch

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—With Chicago leading the National league by a single point over New York and only four points over Pittsburgh and seven points separating Detroit and Chicago respectively first and third in the American league race, Cleveland remaining in second position, the closing days of the baseball season are fraught with ever increasing interest. Through winning its game with Cincinnati while New York split a double-header with Philadelphia, the Chicago Nationals disclosed New York from a position which it had held more than a month. Supporters of the New York team were much disheartened by the injuries which befell Bresnahan and Donlin yesterday. The games in the National league scheduled for today are: Chicago at Cincinnati, Philadelphia at New York, St. Louis at Pittsburgh, and Brooklyn at Boston. There was no change in the relative positions of the leading teams in the American league yesterday and only two games are scheduled for today. Detroit will meet Washington in Detroit and Philadelphia and Cleveland play at Cleveland.

GLIDDEN'S TRIP

BALLOON IS ON ITS WAY TO BOSTON

SPRINGFIELD, Sept. 30.—Driven by a brisk westerly breeze, the balloon Boston with Charles J. Glidden as pilot and Henry A. Morse of Boston, commodore of the Corinthian Yacht club, as a passenger, travelled rapidly in the direction of the city for which the balloon is named, after making an ascension here today. The ascension was not marred by any kind of an accident. After rising to a great height the balloon was caught by a strong westerly current and soon disappeared in the east. Before ascending Mr. Glidden said that he would attempt to land either in or near Boston.

BROCKTON FAIR

Lieut. Gov. and Senator Lodge There Today

BROCKTON, Sept. 30.—Lieut. Gov. Eben S. Draper represented the state at Brockton fair today attended by U. S. Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, the state executive council and many uniformed members of the governor's staff. A special car bringing the official party arrived at noon and the fair management provided lunch at the Commercial club where guests were drunk to fine. Escorted by militia the official party arrived at the grounds shortly before two and were welcomed by a salute of seventeen guns. The fair attendance was large and the demonstration in honor of the guests was most enthusiastic. The feature of the afternoon is to be a match race between Sweet Marie and Major Demar in an effort to break the track record.

VICTORY RAISED

Difficult Job at Monument Square

A very tedious job was undertaken today by the men who are regading and beautifying Monument square, preparatory to having a "City Beautiful" when the J. C. Ayer monument, the statue of Victory, was raised about 18 inches from its former foundation. A crowd of interested spectators watched the men perform the work of the work.

PRES. ROOSEVELT

Will Not Reply to Bryan's Letter

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—President Roosevelt will not reply to the latest letter of W. J. Bryan given out by him last night at Rock Island, Ill. Sec. Loeb stated today that the president felt that inasmuch as Mr. Bryan's letter was simply an attack on him personally there was no reason why he should answer it.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

MISS ALICE MOONEY OBSERVES HER 18TH ANNIVERSARY

A delightful birthday party was held last evening at the home of Miss Alice Mooney in Butterfield street, the occasion being the 18th anniversary of her birth. About twenty guests were present and all assisted in making the evening an enjoyable one. Games were played and a fine musical program was carried out. Songs were rendered by Messrs. Fred Bamford, Frank Whalen, James and Thomas Gill, Eugene Knowlton and others. Misses Kittle Bamford and Josephine Maun were the accompanists. Miss Mooney was the recipient of many presents, including a gold watch, two rings and a beautiful watch fob.

An appetizing repast was served after which all departed wishing the hostess many happy birthdays and thanking her for the good time enjoyed.

GOV. GUILD

COULD NOT ATTEND THE BROCKTON FAIR

BROCKTON, Sept. 30.—Although today was designed as "Governor's day" on the program of the Brockton fair, Governor Curtis Guild was unable to be present. The governor, however, was represented by Lieut. Gov. Draper and the governor's staff.

KILLED BY CHUM

Young Men Were Fooling With Hammerless Revolver

PAWTUCKET, R. I., Sept. 30.—Charles L. Lyons, a youth of 15 years, is lying dead with a bullet wound in his breast, while Joseph Prairie, of about the same age, whose hand held the revolver from which the fatal missile was sent, is being held pending an investigation of the tragedy. Prairie will be arraigned later in the day, and from present indications a charge of manslaughter will be laid against him. Lyons, who was the son of Mrs. and the late Mr. Michael Lyons, left his mother's home yesterday because of some fancied grievance. It is asserted, and during the evening entered the restaurant where Joseph Prairie is employed as a clerk. Prairie with his brother John resides at the Maple house and they agreed to let young Lyons stay with them for the night as he asserted he would not return home. The trio arose late this morning and after dressing, Joseph Prairie was fooling with a hammerless revolver which he playfully pointed at Lyons. The police say, The sudden discharge of the firearm startled the occupants of the room and Lyons with a cry of pain clasped his hand over his breast and fell to the floor. The tragedy occurred about 8.30 o'clock.

THE HOTEL CASES

Proprietors of the Franklin Placed on Trial Today

The first of the Lowell hotel cases was called before Judge Lawton in the superior criminal court in East Cambridge at 12.30 o'clock this afternoon. The arrangements yesterday were that the Frontenac hotel would be the first to be heard, but plans changed and the Franklin hotel was given first call. The defendants are James F. Holden and William H. Holden and they were charged with illegally exposing and keeping for sale intoxicating liquors. They were made out for the violation of laws made on three Sundays and one legal holiday. Daniel Coakley of the firm of Coakley & Sherman, appeared for the defendants and District Attorney Higgins for the Commonwealth.

The jurors first drawn the defense objected to Warren C. Hanchett, real estate, Dracut; Everett B. Noyes, real estate, Dracut; and William H. Prouty, real estate, Woburn, while the prosecution objected to James S. Davidson, plumber, Cambridge; George D. Canney, clerk, Dracut and Alexander B. McIntosh, wheelwright, Wakefield.

The accepted jurymen are Edgar R. Washburn, merchant, Ayer; Gardner Willis, clerk, Lowell; Eugene L. Russell, provision dealer, Somerville; George A. Richards, real estate, Somerville; Rufus C. North, blacksmith, Wakefield; George B. McKirdy, pattern maker, Lowell; David W. McKenna, peddler, Somerville; Theodore H. Locke, clerk, Somerville; Joseph Foley, foreman, Wilmington; Francis E. Flint, shoe maker, Wakefield; Thomas England, tinsmith, Lowell; and Frank J. Denny, plasterer, Lowell.

Six Lowell police officers were sworn for the government.

Sgt. Thomas R. Atkinson of the liquor squad was the first witness for the government. He described the hotel location and appointments. He described first his visit to the house on election day. There were 12 or 14 around tables in the large dining room. "All of the men," he said, "had their hats on and some wore overcoats. They were drinking Harvard lager and Harvard beer from bottles.

"The men who asked for drinks before asking for food were told that they could not be served because they did not first order food."

He made two visits to the hotel on that day and found conditions the same on each occasion.

"I visited the hotel on Sunday, Dec. 22. There were 41 men present in the three dining rooms," he said. The tables at which the men sat were covered with cloths and most of the men had sandwiches in front of them. Some were without food and some were eating the sandwiches.

"The men told of a second visit on the same day and found conditions about the same as on first visit. He saw men drinking and their sandwiches not touched. Did not see any food other than sandwiches.

He said that the beer and liquors came from the barroom as did the sandwiches.

At 1 o'clock adjournment was taken till 2.15 o'clock.

TOWN OF MICHEL GREAT OVATION

Was Wiped Out by Fire Last Night

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 30.—A despatch from Fernie received here today states that the new town of Michel was wiped out by fire last night. The town was partially destroyed during the big fire on July 31.

Whether or Not President Will Take Stump

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Secretary Loeb today stated that President Roosevelt had no intention of making a speaking tour in behalf of the republican candidate for president. Many invitations had been received by the president, but Mr. Loeb said, but Mr. Roosevelt has never said he would take up the stump. When asked whether the president might consider that making a speaking tour would materially aid the republican cause the president in that event would take the stump, Mr. Loeb replied that he might or might not do so and added that no one could tell what the future would bring forth.

6 O'CLOCK 100 SPEAKERS

Delivered Addresses on the Ravages of Consumption.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Each of the seven sections of the international congress on tuberculosis at their sessions in the national museum this morning contributed much to the knowledge through the discussion by renowned scientists of measures that promise success to the world movement against the ravages of tuberculosis. More than a hundred speakers were on the programs of the several sections.

Great interest centered round the work of sections Nos. 11 and 7, in which Dr. Robert Koch, the German scientist and discoverer of the tubercle bacillus actively participated. His address on the relations of human and bovine tuberculosis was perhaps the most notable of the day. This joint session brought together probably the largest group of medical men.

At a separate meeting of section 1, Dr. Welch presiding, the subjects were: "Sources of Infection" were taken up, of which Dr. Vincent Y. Bowditch is president, had under discussion, "The Specific Therapy of Pulmonary Tuberculosis," dwelling particularly on tuberculin and its derivatives.

"Joint tuberculosis" in its different relations occupied the time of section 3 of which Dr. Charles F. Mayo of Rochester, Minn. is president. Pulmonary tuberculosis in children of tuberculous parents and the transmission of the disease through family association formed the topic of a half dozen addresses before section 4, Dr. A. Jacobie of New York presiding.

The social control of tuberculosis through health and public relief departments of the nation, state and municipal governments, was a plan advocated at the session of section 5, Edward T. Devine of New York presiding.

At today's session announcement was made of the inoculation of a number of children, all charity patients, at the Children's hospital here with bacilli of tuberculosis human and bovine, and with a culture of Koch's tubercle bacillus designed to prove the accuracy of the diagnostic methods advanced by Dr. D. L. Janssens of Budapest, Hungary, and the diagnosis theories of Dr. C. Rognon of Paris, France. It was stated at the hospital that the children had responded to the demonstration, the reaction resulting in expressions of gratification over the showing made.

HARRY TIMMONS THE CENTENNIAL

And Miss May Courtney Married Program for Observance Issued

One of the prettiest marriages that has taken place in this city for a long time, occurred this morning when Mr. Harry L. Timmons, the well known druggist and former member of the state legislature, was united in marriage to Miss May G. Courtney, a teacher in the High street school and a very popular young lady in social circles. The wedding reception which followed was private, only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties being present.

The couple were united in marriage at a nuptial mass celebrated at 9 o'clock in the chapel of the Immaculate Conception church, the mass being celebrated and marriage performed by Rev. Fr. Flynn, O. M. I.

Mr. Frederick J. Timmons, brother of the groom, acted as best man and Miss Pearl Courtney was bridesmaid. The bride was becomingly attired in white tulle with hand embroidered trimmings and wore a veil. Miss Pearl Courtney was given in marriage by her father, Mr. J. J. Courtney, who was accompanied by Messrs. Joseph McCaffrey, John Dalton, Miss Etta King and Mrs. Terrence Cox rendered pleasing accompaniment. Miss Minnie Daly acted as bridesmaid, Mrs. Morris sang the "O Salutaris" and the wedding was accompanied by Mr. Michael J. Johnson.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the parochial residence after which Mr. and Mrs. Timmons accompanied by relatives repaired to 196 Pawtucket street, where the wedding breakfast was served.

The happy couple were the recipients of many beautiful and appropriate presents. At the wedding reception was a number of relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Timmons from out of town.

The happy couple left on an early train this afternoon on their wedding tour and before their return to this city they will visit New York, Albany, Buffalo, Niagara Falls, Toronto and Montreal. They will be at home at 105 Wilder street after December 1.

The official program of the celebration of the centennial of the foundation of the diocese of Boston is announced as follows:

Wednesday, Oct. 23—Solemn pontifical mass in the Cathedral at 10.30 a.m., celebrated by the apostolic delegate, in thanksgiving for the graces God has bestowed on this diocese during the century. Sermon by the archbishop of Boston.

Mass meeting in Symphony hall at 8 p.m., at which the following will speak on the bishops of Boston and their times: The Marquis de Bouffier-Chavigny, on Bishop de Cheverus (in French); Judge Charles J. De Courcy, on Bishop de Cheverus (in English); Henry V. Cunningham on Bishop Fenwick; Judge Michael J. Murray, on Bishop Fitzpatrick; Dr. Thomas Dwight, on Archbishop Williams.

Thursday, Oct. 29—Children's day. Solemn high mass in the Cathedral at 9.30 a.m., celebrated by the vicar-general, to implore God's blessing on the children of the diocese. Sermon by Rev. George A. Lyons.

Friday, Oct. 30—Solemn pontifical mass in the Cathedral at 10.30 a.m., celebrated by Bishop Brady for the repose of the souls of the deceased bishops, priests and people of the diocese.

Saturday, Oct. 31—Solemn pontifical mass in the Cathedral at 10.30 a.m., celebrated by Bishop Guertin of Manchester, to implore God's blessing on the religious men and women living in the diocese and His mercy on the souls of the religious who labored and died here. Sermon by the Rev. John H. O'Brien, S. J.

Sunday, Nov. 1—Solemn pontifical mass in the Cathedral at 10.15 a.m., celebrated by the archbishop of Boston.

Procession in Boston of the men of the Holy Name societies of the archdiocese, to be reviewed by the archbishop, followed by solemn chanting of the "Te Deum" in the Cathedral.

AT CITY HALL

No Meetings Scheduled for Tonight

Everything was quiet at city hall today, business being seemingly at a standstill. Owing to the fact that today is the fifth Tuesday of the month it is an off day at city hall.

The busiest man about the place was ex- Alderman "Bill" Dodge, who, tax book game, "Bill" saw "The Man of the Hour" which is playing at the Opera House and he says that it is the greatest that ever struck town.

FELL DOWN STAIRS

WILFRED MEYER INJURED AT CARPET MILLS

Wilfred Meyer, employed by Contractor Bishop, who is laying carpet Co. while at work this morning fell down a flight of stairs and sustained a deep gash in the head. The ambulance was summoned and he was removed to the Lowell hospital.

STAR THEATRE

Parish, the original novelty ventriloquist, is really a wonder. With a little ruse, a pencil, some burnt cork and a handkerchief, he transforms his hand into a human head, and then makes that head talk and sing with the facial expression and mannerisms peculiar to the character represented.

Babe Curry is making a hit with "The Tune They Played in Dixie" and sings many encores to satisfy the demand for more.

J. C. Bell is showing the pretty little ballad "There Never Was a Girl Like You," which is beautifully illustrated. The moving pictures are particularly good. Many beautiful scenic effects are shown together with some excellent comedy.

The Travelers are as interesting as ever and have proved to be a strong attraction.

MAN KILLED BY CAR

MICHAEL J. HEAGNEY STRUCK AND KILLED BY AN ELECTRIC CAR.

Michael J. Heagney of Clinton Stood Still on Car Track

Michael J. Heagney, supposed to be of Clinton, Mass., was struck by one of the semi-convertible cars near Foster's turnout in Tewksbury last night at 8.30 o'clock while standing still on the track in front of the car. So close was he to the car when he came within view of the motorist that it was impossible to stop the car in time to save his life.

The man stood between the rails with the glare of the search light directly on him, whether he was dazed or stupefied by the light is not known but he did not move until hurled to one side by the car.

The man, still alive, but unconscious, was hurried to the residence of Dr. H. J. Larabee at Tewksbury. Centre about two miles from the scene of the accident. The doctor made a hasty examination of the man and then ordered his removal to the state hospital.

The victim was so weak from the loss of blood when he arrived at the hospital, the doctors felt that nothing could be done to save his life. They did everything in their power to revive him but in vain. He died at the hospital at 8.10 o'clock without recovering consciousness.

AUCTION SALE OF A TWO-STORY HOUSE AND ABOUT 4650 SQUARE FEET OF LAND NUMBERED 114 ROCK STREET.

I have instructed the auctioneer to offer for sale by public auction on the appointed time, my two-story house of 10 good sized rooms, toilet, gas and sewer, situated on the corner of Rock and Wiggin streets. The house is in very fair condition and could easily be converted into either a two-tenement property or a four, or six-flat block; and inasmuch as it is located on a corner, the frontage of 143 feet on the two streets. This is a grand chance for anyone to purchase a property in close proximity to a number of manufacturing plants, where he can be assured his tenements will have continuous occupancy, either for home purposes or for the investor. Included in part are the following well-known manufacturing plants: Otis Allen box shop, Whittall Manufacturing Company, Ames Fratt, Lowell Hosiery, hobbin factory and numerous others. Now, if all kinds of employment, centre of the city and places of amusement, be sure you attend this sale, as the opportunity to purchase real estate of this description is rare.

AUCTION SALE OF A BEAUTIFUL LINE OF UP-TO-DATE FURNITURE AT 177 FORT HILL AVENUE.

I will sell for J. S. Wilson, who leaves for New York, Friday, Oct. 2, a nice line of furniture as has been sold for a long time, consisting of, a couch, extension table and dining room, chairs brass bed and bedding, Amara Fratt, Lowell Hosiery, hobbin factory and numerous others. Now, if all kinds of employment, centre of the city and places of amusement, be sure you attend this sale, as the opportunity to purchase real estate of this description is rare.

Sale positive, Friday, Oct. 2.

A search of the pockets revealed a telegram dated at Wakefield on Sept. 29th and an ordinary piece of writing paper which bore a scribbled message. On the latter paper was the following:

"My name is Michael J. Heagney. I was born in and my home is at Clinton, Mass. I now live at 163 Middlesex street, Lowell."

Then followed directions that in case the bearer was found unconscious or unable to talk, his sister, Mrs. Thomas Cannon of 20 Nelson street, West Lynn was to be notified. Here the message ended, unsigned.

The telegram was from a foreman employed on work in Wakefield, and was to the effect that if Heagney came at once to that town he would be given employment. He was requested to bring another man with him. Both papers were put in the hands of the authorities.

Various theories were advanced as to how the man happened to come to such an untimely death. One was, that he might have been walking between the rails and failed to have noticed the car as it was in the way of the car until it was almost on him and upon learning that the car was going to pass over the rails between which he was walking, became confused and did not know what to do. While the theory of suicide has been advanced, the paper found in the man's pocket, few are of the opinion that he pitifully stood in the way of the car with suicidal intent.

Motorman's Story

In speaking of the affair Motorman Wilson stated that the first he saw of the man the latter was standing in the middle of the track and was not moving. The car was moving comparatively slow at the time, just having passed through Foster's turnout. The motorman made every attempt to bring the car to a standstill but was unable to do so in the short distance. The car was Lowell bound and was at the time due in this city at 7.15 o'clock. A very quick run was made to the residence of Dr. Larabee in the Centre.

Dr. E. E. Bell of this city, associate medical examiner, was notified of the accident and hurried to the state hospital, but failed to arrive there before Heagney expired. After examining the body he took charge of the papers, found in the man's clothing. The public is invited, and any who are interested in the school or are thinking of entering it are specially requested to present to see what the school has done and can do, to confer with teachers who will be there for the purpose of meeting them, and to register for the coming term. This school will have no other evening for registration, and its regular sessions will open on the same date as other evening schools, Oct. 13. Those who expect to attend will save time and confusion on the opening night by registering on the 15th, and the public can be assured of an exhibition of the usual high order at the same time.

LOWELL HUSBAND

Joins Other Husband in Chase for Missing Wife

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 30.—Two very angry husbands, Joseph Caderetti of Lowell, Mass., and Henry Wooster of Newark, N. J., Monday ready to fly at each other's throats at the drop of a hat, but now reconciled and steadfast friends in the common purpose of discovering their common wife, Mrs. Florence Fitzsimmons Caderetti-Wooster, and landing her behind prison bars for bigamy, sincerely trust that the woman suspect arrested last evening by the New York police in their wife and quarry, which will end a search of many years through many states.

Caderetti says he married Florence Fitzsimmons at Newark, Dec. 28, 1889, when she was about 19 years old and in August of the following year a son, Albert, now 18 years old, was born to him. Shortly afterward, she deserted him, taking the baby, and since then the chase has been on, the scent being now hot, now cold and untrackable.

Last year, on April 24, in the parlors of the Coulter house in Essex, it is alleged, she married her latest husband, just what number he is he doesn't know. His name is Henry Wooster and he says that after she had explained that she had been divorced from her first husband, persuaded by a revolver which she frequently twisted in his direction, he offered to become her husband.

At this time Caderetti picked up the correct clew and he has been following Wooster and his marvelous wife from Connecticut to Georgia and back again. Wooster was unaware of the avenging husband on his trail until Sunday, when he came to Essex to attend the funeral of his brother, Eugene F. Wooster of Chicago, who was buried in Connecticut. Caderetti was on hand with a warrant charging various things, but when he learned that Wooster had been worse than himself he gave him his hand, and the arrest in New York last night is the result of compact.

The husbands say there are many smaller wheels within the larger which accentuate the mystery and escapades of their mutual wife.

WHITE A SUICIDE STRIKE IS ENDED

Man Jumped From Boston Boat 20,000 Men Were Involved in Trouble

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 30.—Rolla F. White, aged 45, a travelling salesman and previous to a year ago a resident of Washington Court House, O., committed suicide by jumping into the dock from the Boston steamer soon after its arrival at the berth here early today. With his wife and child he had been living the past year with his brother, Dr. E. H. White of Lewiston. He had a sister in Brooklyn and a brother in Ohio. It was born at Gray, Me. Lack of work and fear of a surgical operation to be performed on the back of his neck caused despondency, it was believed.

MONTREAL, Sept. 30.—The strike of Canadian Pacific railroad mechanics which started August 4 was declared off early today. The strike involved about 20,000 men. The terms of settlement have not yet been announced. It was decided to declare the strike off in the west first. This will be followed by a similar declaration in the east.

THE AMERICANS

WILL NOT BE RESTRICTED IN FISHING

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Sept. 30.—The Newfoundland ministry having agreed to continue for the present season the arrangement effected last year permitting American herring fishermen to purchase cargoes and ship crews at Day of Islands, N. F., the British government has cancelled the imperial rescript of 1897 which invested the naval commander in this district with absolute power to prevent the colonial authorities from interfering with American vessels engaged in the winter herring fisheries along the west coast of Newfoundland. This means that the colonial authorities will be permitted to prosecute any Americans who violate the ordinary fishery regulations which apply alike to residents from being obliged to comply with such regulations Americans will not be restricted in any way in their fishing operations off Newfoundland during the coming winter.

WORK RESUMED

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—There was a further cut in the dividend of the preferred stock of the International Paper Co. today when the directors declared one half of one per cent.

FOREST FIRES

Have Been Brought Under Control

RICHMOND, Vt., Sept. 30.—The forest fires which have been raging on both sides of the Canadian boundary line in this vicinity for several days have finally been brought under control although not completely extinguished. The fire in the vicinity of the high wind which prevailed Monday and the showers Monday night enabled the large force of men fighting the flames to make a better stand against the fire yesterday and last night, and today they had the situation well in hand. The fire on the mountain range between this town and Jay, which burned over about 100 acres and destroyed timber valued at many thousands of dollars, is said to have been deliberately set by hunters who were endeavoring by this means to drive the deer out into the open where they could more easily shoot them. The fire in Sutton, Que., extended over a territory about a mile and a half in length. Although the flames at one time came very near this village, the only building destroyed was a sugar house.

SAFE WRECKED

Postoffice Entered for the Fourth Time

PLYMOUTH, Sept. 30.—For the fourth time within the past few years the post office at North Plymouth was entered by burglars early today. The safe and the interior of the postoffice were wrecked by the explosion which followed the use of nitroglycerine on the safe. The burglars secured only about $10 in cash and a considerable quantity of stamps. It is believed that they escaped in an automobile which was seen at this vicinity.

LETTERS STOLEN

Standard Oil Man Says His Files Were Rifled

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—A new phase of the discussion of the so-called "Standard oil correspondence" made public recently by William R. Hearst was entered late yesterday, when John D. Archbold, vice president of the Standard Oil company, made a statement, setting forth details of the alleged theft of correspondence from his files.

Ex-U. S. Senator John Lawrence McLaurin of South Carolina also entered the field with a signed statement, declaring his attitude in the matter of the correspondence between himself and Mr. Archbold.

Mr. Archbold said: "In response to many inquiries as to the theft of letters from my files, the following may be made known: Over three years ago a report reached me that certain of my letters had been offered for sale to newspapers of this city, avowedly as stolen letters. Examination showed that they could only have been taken by someone not only familiar with the office details, but highly trusted."

Number Taken Not Known
"The party on whom suspicion fell stoutly denied all guilt. A little later, however, a man who represented himself as acting between the thief and those to whom the letters had been sold proposed to return some of the letters for a consideration. His story was that the idea of the theft had been conceived by his brother, who had been at one time in the company's employ, and that this brother had induced the employee already suspected to accomplish the theft.

"According to the go-between's story, he had disposed of the letters or some of them to two men who purchased them on behalf of Mr. Hearst's newspaper, the Journal. Not only had stolen letters been thus traded, but the thief was induced to carry off one or more letter copying books, many of whose pages he claims were photographed, other pages being removed altogether.

"The books in question were, the go-between said, returned for as hours. It is impossible to say how many were stolen and sold in this way. It is not thought necessary to say more at present or to mention names.

No Apologies, Says McLaurin

"Corroboration of the go-between's story of three years ago lay in his return of some of the correspondence at the time. The production of stolen letters by Mr. Hearst is further corroboration now. Obviously, among such a coterie, authenticity of their output is not to be lightly accepted. The opportunities for falsification, suppression of context, distortion of passages, are many."

HUNTING SEASON

Will Be in Full Swing Thursday

The hunting season will be in full swing this week. The open season for shooting partridge, woodcock, quail hares and rabbits will go into effect Thursday, October 1.

The fox-hunting season as recognized by the majority of Lowell fox hunters will also open on that date. Early Thursday morning the woods and fields will be alive with sportsmen and others carrying guns after the long wait through the summer months.

From present indications there will be an unusually large number of hunters out, and, as is usually the case, the number in the woods and fields on that day will be larger than on any other day of the season.

There is something about the opening day of the hunting season, like the fishing season, that attracts men, that seldom go out again during the remainder of the hunting season and many who have never before assayed the part of ninny.

The majority of the hunters out on the first day are bird hunters, though the beginners usually bang away at everything in sight. There are conflicting reports this year as to the probability of a successful bird hunting season.

Reports are heard from sections of the country that partridges are as plentiful as they ever were, while other sportsmen who have made numerous trips through their favorite hunting grounds recently say that the partridges are few and far between and the few that are to be found are as wild as hawks and have already taken to the thick woods.

It will be a short bird hunting season this year, as the open season on partridge, woodcock and quail will close November 1, which is considered of satisfactory length by the majority of the sportsmen. Reports pretty generally agree that there are practically no quail in the covers in this vicinity and that the native woodcock are as scarce. The flight woodcock is always an unknown quantity in numbers, but the sportsmen say the flights have been growing smaller and smaller each year.

The number of hares and rabbits in the woods remain about the same as last year, and the real hunting season for these animals does not really begin till the first snow fall. The cottontail rabbits are always as plentiful as the big white hares are scarce. In one or two localities a couple of years ago an increase in the number of white hares was noticed as the localities had been left alone by the hunters for some time. Some of these covers were practically cleaned out last winter, and big winter will be few and far between.

Lowell sportsmen have been pursuing recently the pocket edition of the fish and game laws issued by the Massachusetts fish and game protective association. According to this year's laws the shooting of gray squirrels is prohibited, and Mongolian, English and golden pheasants are not to be shot at any time.

The same also applies to insectivorous and song birds, eagles, fish hawks, marsh hawks, small owls, upland plover and wild pigeons, herons, bittern, all gulls and terns.

The sale of partridge, prairie chickens and woodcock is prohibited, as also is quail killed in the state. Sending game out of the state is prohibited. The killing or possessing of a pinnated grouse or heat hen is prohibited and carries a $100 fine for conviction.

Next week is Quarter Week at the Five Cent Savings bank. Deposits placed upon interest Saturday, Oct. 3.

BIG PARADE

OF ESSEX COUNTY T. A. U. TAKES PLACE IN HAVERHILL

The annual parade of the Essex County T. A. U. in observance of the birthday of Rev. Theobald Mathew will take place in Haverhill on Saturday, October 10th, and will be an imposing affair. Quite a number of Lowell people will go down to Haverhill to witness the demonstration.

No Parade in Lowell

There will be no parade in Lowell this year in observance of Fr. Mathew day, October 10th. The Mathews will, however, observe the day with a lecture on Sunday, October 11th, by a prominent speaker. It is said that the total abstinence leaders would like to have a big parade here in October, 1909.

THE GAME LAWS

Some of the Changes Made

After an impatient wait of many months, sportsmen who are anxious to inform themselves of the changes in game laws are able to secure pamphlets containing a summary of the game legislation passed by the last legislature and existing laws not affected by the acts of 1908.

The fish and game commissioners have issued the pamphlets.

The majority of sportsmen know in a general way that several important changes in the game laws were made by the last legislature, but have not had the opportunity to inform themselves as to the particulars of the changes, and as the hunting season is drawing near, they began to get impatient for the publication of the pamphlets that they might inform themselves of the laws and take no chances when the time came to go into the field and try their luck and skill in the pursuit of game birds or animals.

Perhaps the change in the laws that will arouse the most interest is that in relation to the taking of game birds, particularly the partridge. This year for the first time the shooting season on game birds is limited to the month of October. The season on all species is contemporaneous. For the last few years this has not been the case, the open seasons on the quail and partridge differing. But this year game birds of all kinds that may be killed can be killed in October only: the ruffed grouse, commonly called the partridge, woodcock and quail.

The pheasants cannot legally be killed at all. For the last two years it has been legal to kill male Mongolian pheasants during November, but this year is denied hunters this year.

The sale prohibition law has been extended this year to quail and woodcock. For several years it has been unlawful to sell partridge at any time, even during the open season for shooting of that species. In the draft of the new act the same provision is made with reference to woodcock and quail, so that it is now unlawful to sell only species of the game bird that is commonly hunted in this section.

Another prohibition that will have a wide effect is that on gray squirrels. There is now a two-year close season on gray squirrels, which will not be legitimate prey for the shooter until October 1, 1910. For the last year or two there was a two months' open season on gray squirrels. Before that the season was contemporaneous with that on hares and rabbits. But it's different now. No change has been made in the open season on that species of running game, the shooting extended from October 1 to March 1. But gray squirrels cannot be killed at any time, neither can a gray squirrel in this state be sold.

No change was made in the laws relative to dogs running deer, which are probably the least understood of any of the game laws. Under those laws only an officer has a right to kill a dog chasing deer and then only when the dog is kept for that purpose, or purposes deer with the knowledge and consent of the owner.

The owners of dogs are thus afforded better protection than many of them believe they are, as taxes are rare where dogs are used to chase deer. It is usually an accident that happens to a fox hunter whose hound may strike a hot deer track, which is regretted more by the hunter than anybody else, as his day's sport is spoiled by the time lost in getting his hound off the deer track.

One of the important additions to the laws is the resident hunter's license law. Hitherto there has been a law requiring non-residents to take out a license. But residents of the state, who are also citizens, have enjoyed the privilege of gunning without cost.

The license law won't trouble the bird hunters this fall, as it does not go into operation until Jan. 1, which was an afterthought of some members of the legislature in making an amendment to the law as originally proposed. The law does not go into operation until Jan. 1, so that the only hunters in this section who will be affected are the rabbit hunters. They will be forced to take out a license if they hunt after Jan. 1, which will be after Jan. 1 of the following year. The cost of the resident hunter's license is $1.

The resident hunter's license law is little understood, as is shown by the discussion that has been heard among hunters as the open season on game is drawing near. "Will fox hunters have to take out a license for Jan. 1?" is the question asked by some hunters. They believe they will, but those with a better understanding of the laws have maintained fox hunters won't have to trouble themselves, as foxes are not game in the accepted sense of that term.

The reading of the resident hunter's license law makes it plain enough that fox hunters need not take out a license. The law covering that reads:

"No citizen of the United States, resident in Massachusetts, shall hunt, pursue, take or kill any bird or quadruped protected by law, without first having obtained a certificate of registration."

Foxes are not protected by law and consequently the fox hunter will not have to take out a license.

Non-residents cannot hunt foxes without a non-resident hunter's license as the section relating to the hunting of non-residents says they shall not hunt any wild animal, wild bird or quadruped protected by law.

In another year the latter will probably be changed to wild animals and birds, as that has been the scheme of the commission as shown in the modification of the Sunday hunting law, which used to read "game birds and animals," but now reads "wild animals of game."

Not a little discussion has been heard among hunters regarding the right of search of game wardens, as it has been generally known some sort of legislation was enacted on this point at the last session.

The commission endeavors to secure a stringent right of search measure, and the committee of the legislature favored, but the house couldn't listen to the proposition. However, the legislature passed a bill which is:

"A commissioner on fisheries and game or any duly authorized deputy commissioner, receiving a salary from the commonwealth, may request of any person whom said commissioner or deputy commissioner reasonably believes to be engaged in the taking, killing, hunting, or snaring of fish, birds or animals, contrary to law, that such person shall forthwith display for the inspection of such commissioner or deputy commissioner, any and all fish, birds and animals then in his possession; and upon refusal to comply with such request said commissioner or deputy commissioner may arrest without warrant the person so refusing.

The act doesn't give the unpaid deputies any authority in this respect. Hardly any of the other changes in the game laws will bear on hunters in the central section of the state.

POLICE OFFICER

Was Dismissed For Not Being Civil in Boston Yesterday

BOSTON, Sept. 30.—Any person who puts a civil question to a Boston policeman must be assured of a civil answer. Common sense, a decent regard for the rights of the people who pay his salary, the regulations of the department and the frequent admonitions of the commissioner in the past possible excuse for misconduct of the kind, says Commissioner O'Shea in a general order issued last night in which the dismissal of Patrolman William Curran of division 7 is reported. The patrolman had refused to answer a civil question concerning a street car out to him by a citizen, and as he had been before a police trial board on two previous occasions within a year, the commissioner refused to approve the present board's recommendation of further punishment and dismissed the officer.

According to the testimony upon which Patrolman Curran was convicted before the trial board, he not only refused to answer a citizen's question, but after walking away returned to his questioner and used insulting language. Patrolman Curran's defense was a general denial.

The trial board found that the officer's testimony was contradicted by a witness who had every reason to be favorable to him.

GRANITEVILLE

The town men of Graniteville are busily engaged with teams in repairing Broadway, in that village, the work being done under the direction of Augustus McPhail, superintendent of streets. While the work is progressing it is understood that the town cannot be completed this year owing to the lack of the required appropriation.

P. Henry Harrington, the local contractor and painter, has practically finished the Cameron school building in Forge Village, and Joe Wall, the painter, now has a force of men at work painting the outside a colonial white. He will also do the interior painting and decorating.

CHELMSFORD

On Saturday next the fall meeting of the North Middlesex Federation of Young People's societies will be held at the First Parish church in Chelmsford. Addresses will be made by Rev. Frederick R. Griffin of Haverhill and Rev. L. L. Greene of Chelmsford. Rev. Mr. Greene's subject will be "Personality in Church Work." The delegates chosen to represent the Federation society at Chelmsford are Miss Eliza Spaulding, Miss Elizabeth Warren, Miss Ruth Adams, Horner W. Sweetser and William E. Adams. In addition to these many other members of the society will probably be in attendance.

Interesting Items From Mill Centres

UNION S. C. Sept. 30.—Thomas C. Duncan, formerly president of the Union-Buffalo and other cotton mills, has been arrested here on a warrant charging him with receiving money from the People's bank of this city under false pretences, and with intent to cheat and defraud. Bond in the sum of $1500 was required and furnished.

The facts, as nearly as can be ascertained, are that in December of 1906 Duncan obtained from the People's bank the sum of $1515 in payment of a check or draft upon a bank in Spring City, Tennessee, where Duncan was then doing business, and there was no money in Spring City bank to pay the check. It is alleged that the check was drawn by the American Lime Co. at the instance of T. C. Duncan, who is supposed to have been at the head of that company.

WAUREGAN MILLS RESUME

WAUREGAN, Conn., Sept. 30.—The Wauregan cotton mills have started on full time with a complement of 650 hands. The mill has been idle for two weeks. The Quinbaug cotton mill at Danielson has also gone on a full time schedule. At Plainfield there is being completed a $100,000 addition to the Union mills, which will mean the employment of several hundred additional hands.

WORKING ON MAYO MILL

DOVER, Me., Sept. 30.—Work is progressing rapidly on Mayo & Son's new woolen mill, which is building in Foxcroft. The wheel pit has been completed, the wheels set and the mill house is now being erected. The work on the mill building was a very good start. The method of constructing a reinforced concrete building is novel in this section and the work is being watched with a great deal of interest. Mayo & Son are having the use of the rock crusher, owned by the town of Foxcroft, and are turning out a great amount of crushed rock each day, which is to be used in the concrete walls.

HEAVY LOSS TO FACTORY
FORT DODGE, Ia., Sept. 30.—Fire destroyed the Mulhoney Manufacturing company's plant here recently, with a loss estimated at over $125,000. The building was a three-story brick and contained stock valued at over $80,000. The company manufactured shirts, overalls and other men's goods. The building and contents are completely ruined. The loss on the building is $35,000 and on the machinery $30,000. The total loss above the insurance is estimated to be between $30,000 and $40,000.

Bryan Once More Gets After President Roosevelt

He Says That, if Elected He Will Enforce the Law Against Trusts — He Challenges President to Make Public the Contributions Raised by Mark Hanna in 1896

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., Sept. 29.—W. J. Bryan fired another volley from his typewriter at President Roosevelt last night in reply to the 6000-word onslaught from the White House on Sunday.

Mr. Bryan changed his mind yesterday morning about answering the president, his first plan being to dispose of the president's 6000 words in a brief statement to the public. He decided to say what he had to say to the president direct.

In his reply he challenges comparison of his own record with that of the president. If elected he declares, he will enforce the laws against trusts, "not spasmodically and intermittently, but persistently and consistently."

"They will not be suspended even for the protection of cabinet officers," he adds curtly, referring to the presidential whitewashing of J. Paul Morton.

Concerning the president's accusation intended to connect him with law-defying trusts, he says:

"I have lived in vain if your accusations lose me a single friend."

Referring to the president's mention of the contributions to his campaign fund of 1896, he challenges Mr. Roosevelt to make public the republican contributions made to Mr. Hanna that year.

"I am willing to have both funds

connect the democratic party, and me as its candidate, with the trusts.

Humblest Citizen's Right

"I asked you to name a tribunal before which the charge could be investigated, or, if you would not do that, offered to leave it to you to say whether, in your judgment, the charges justified Mr. Roosevelt's withdrawal from the organization. You did not deign to suggest a tribunal, but proceeded to pass judgment upon him."

"He immediately resigned his position that he might be more free to prosecute those who brought accusations against him. Thus his connection with the organization ended. I had no authority to submit to you the question of his guilt or innocence for that decision."

"Even the president cannot deny to the humblest citizen of the land the right to protect his reputation and indicate his name in courts established for the purpose, where witnesses can be examined and evidence submitted according to the rules of law."

"In my first letter to you I resented the limitation that any charges made against Mr. Hanna could be justly construed as concerning the democratic party or me, as its candidate, with any trust or law-defying corporation."

"My Record Sufficient Answer"

"You replied that the charges were a matter of general notoriety, and asked why Mr. Taft did not mention them when he made speeches against Mr. Hanna in Oklahoma. You at once endeavored to connect me with new matters which arose after the Denver convention, and conscious that those charges were insufficient, you have since given wings to accusations that a disinterested party would make against another without investigation."

"I am willing that your charges against me shall be submitted to the voters of the country, and with your charges I submit my denial of any knowledge or information that could, in the remotest way, connect me with any trust, monopoly or law-defying corporation."

"My record is sufficient answer to your insinuations. I challenged you to name a trust official who is supporting me, and after searching the country you produce the name of one man, not a trust official, but the local attorney of a trust."

Two Standards of Measure

"Without inquiring whether he votes for me because of his connection with a trust or in spite of it, or because of his fear of business adversity under Mr. Taft, you accept his statement that he will vote for me as conclusive proof that I am in league with the trusts, although you admit that trust officials are supporting the republican ticket."

"You complain me when you measure me by a higher standard than you do your political associates. For you insist that Mr. Rockefeller's contribution to Gov. Hughes' campaign fund was no reflection upon him, and I take it for granted that you do not criticize Judge Taft's recommendation of a Standard Oil attorney to the federal bench, a place where the judge might have to pass on the charges against the very trust for which he had been attorney."

Not Even for Cabinet Officers

"While the trust attorney to whom you refer is not an official of a trust, I will warn him, and through him his clients, that if I am elected I will not only vigorously enforce against all offenders the laws which we hope to have enacted in compliance with the democratic platform, but that I will also vigorously enforce existing laws against any and all who violate them, and that I will enforce them not spasmodically and intermittently, but persistently and consistently; they will not be suspended even for the protection of cabinet officers."

"You say the attitude of many men of large financial interest warrants you in expressing the belief that those trust magnates whose fear of being prosecuted under the law by Mr. Taft is greater than their fear of general business adversity under me, will support me rather than Mr. Taft."

Ingenious, but Not Sound

"You have attempted to word that statement in such a way as to claim the support of all the trust magnates, and yet put it on the ground that they are supporting your party for patriotic reasons, rather than for the promotion of a selfish interest. This is ingenious, but it is not sound. The trust magnates are supporting the republican party and the Bible offers an explanation: 'The ox knoweth his owner and the ass his master's crib.'"

"You admit that you gave permission to the steel trust to absorb a rival and thus increase its control of the output of steel and iron products. I will leave the American people to pass judgment upon that act and compare your position on the trust question with mine."

"You refer to our campaign fund. In 1896 and accuse us of allowing two men to contribute largely to the small fund with which the committee conducted the campaign. I am not sure about the figures because I have not seen an authentic statement of the contributions, but I was informed that the largest of the two sums which you mention was not all contributed by the man to whom it was credited, but included contributions from others as well as that which he gave himself."

Publish Both Funds of 1896

"But if you want to be fair, why do you not give the amount of the republican campaign fund that year and the sources of it? I am willing to have both funds published; are you? If some of those who contributed to our fund of less than $50,000 had a pecuniary interest in the result of the election, how will you explain the enormous contributions made to the republican fund?"

"If you will remember the democratic platform, candidly declare the party's purpose. If the carrying out of that policy would have been of advantage to any one, the whole public had knowledge and the publication of the contributions would not have affected the result."

"Publicity as to campaign funds is not needed to make known that which is disclosed by the platform, but to direct attention to secret agreements, expressed or implied, which would otherwise be concealed from the public."

Mote and the Beam

"You certainly pay more attention to the mote than to the beam when you find fault with our national campaign fund in 1896 and ignore the significance of a fund almost as large, which, at your request, was collected from a few persons in 1901 and was used in one fund collected that year for the republican ticket."

"But your letter presents a defence of your party's position and an accusation against the voters which emphasize an issue already prominent. You are the first conspicuous member of your party to attempt an explanation of the party's opposition to publicity before the election, and the admission which you make will embarrass your party associates."

"Your position is that the publication before election of the contributions made to your campaign fund would furnish your political opponents an opportunity to give false impressions as to the fitness of the candidates."

Explanation in Bible

"You cite as illustrations the contributions made to Gov. Hughes' campaign fund, the contributions collected by Mr. Harriman in the contributions which are now being collected for Mr. Taft's campaign fund. You charge in effect, that the people are so lacking in intelligence that they might condemn as improper contributions which you declare to be proper. If the voters differ with you on this question are they necessarily ignorant and wrong?"

"Must the members of the party organization act as self-appointed guardians of the people and conceal from them what is going on, lest the people be misled as to the purpose and effect of large contributions? Is this your explanation of the action of the republican leaders in the national convention in voting down a publicity plank?"

"If you will pardon the suggestion, I believe that a better explanation can be found in Holy Writ, for do we not read of men loving darkness rather than light, because their deeds are evil?"

Not For Patriotic Motives

"You attempt to make a personal question of it and ask whether any one will accuse such men as you, Gov. Hughes and Mr. Taft of being influenced by contributions. That is not the question. If it is found that a party to a suit has given a sum of money to one of the jurors, the court does not stop to inquire whether or not the juror is an incorruptible man or whether on accepting the money he explicitly stated that it was accepted with the understanding that he was making no obligation to consider it in making up his verdict."

"The court would hold that the giving of money by an interested party or the receiving of money was a contempt of court and an interference with the administration of justice."

"Public officials occupy much the same position as jurors. They are constantly called upon to decide questions on the one hand and the people on the other, and there is a very general impression that officials of those favor-seeking corporations do not put up large sums of money from purely patriotic motives."

People Have Right to Know

"Mr. Havemeyer testified before a senate committee some years ago that the sugar trust made it a business to contribute to campaign funds and that it was its custom to give to the party in power in the state. I do not mean to say that Mr. Hughes was influenced by the contributions to him by the trust magnates whose names were given in the after-election report."

"I do not mean to say that you were influenced by the contributions collected by Mr. Harriman, neither do I mean to say that Mr. Taft will be influenced by the contributions that are being made to his fund by the trust magnates; but I do mean to say that the American people have a right to know what contributions are being made, that they may judge for themselves the motive of the givers and the obligations imposed upon those who receive."

"The reflection upon the people involved in your charge that they would misuse the knowledge which publicity would give is unworthy of one who has been elevated to so high an office by the votes of the people, and I venture an assertion that you cannot procure

Reflection on People

"He is now before the people; he is offering himself as a candidate for the presidency; he dare not tell the people to whom he appeals that they have not sense enough to form a just and correct opinion as to the purpose which leads parties interested in special legislation to make big contributions."

"You fear that we would misrepresent the motives of those who are contributing to the republican campaign fund and cast an unjust suspicion upon republican candidates if the names and amounts were made known before the election."

"Your argument, if sound, would prevent publication after the election; for why should an unjust suspicion be cast on officials after the election any more than before? Does not the secrecy before the election increase this suspicion?"

Misrepresent, if You Like

"We are going to give you an opportunity to misrepresent the motives of those who give to our campaign fund, and to arouse all the suspicion you can; we are going to prove to the whole people and not for those who have been enjoying privileges and favors at the hands of the government; and we expect that the honest sentiment of the country will rebuke the party whose convention refused to indorse any kind of publicity and whose candidates are not willing that the people should know until after the polls are closed what predatory interests have been active in support of the republican party. With great respect, etc."

Yours truly,

"William J. Bryan."

CLEARS THE COMPLEXION OVER NIGHT

Pimples, Rash, Eruptions, Etc., Quickly Eradicated by New Skin Remedy.

Since its discovery one year ago, poslam, the new skin remedy, has, in its extraordinary accomplishments, exceeded the most sanguine expectations of the eminent specialist who gave it to the world. It has cured thousands of cases of eczema and eradicated facial and other disfigurements of years' standing. The terrible itching attending eczema is stopped with the first application, giving proof of its curative properties at the very outset.

In less serious skin affections, such as pimples, rash, herpes, blackheads, acne, barber's itch, etc., results show after an overnight application, only a small quantity being required to effect a cure. Those who use poslam for these minor skin troubles can now avail themselves of the special 50-cent package, recently adopted to meet such needs. Both the 50-cent package and the regular 12 jar may now be obtained in Lowell at Falls & Furkinshaw's, Carter & Sherburne's, and other leading drug stores.

A number of the ministers who are attending the New England conference of the Evangelical association are taking their dinners and suppers at the association. The dining room is a very crowded place these days, and a very popular one, under the able management of Mrs. Munsey.

The association has been very fortunate in securing the services of Miss Elvina Bell of Westford street, to teach the embroidery classes this fall. Miss Bell will teach both beginning and advanced pupils. The many beautiful stitches so much in vogue now will be taught as rapidly as it is possible for the pupils to take the work. This is a splendid opportunity to learn to make dainty Christmas presents.

Those who are planning to enter any of the classes should register soon, as only a limited number can be accommodated in some of the classes. The arts and crafts class will be announced later.

Body of a Prominent Mill Man Recovered

SAXONVILLE, Sept. 30.—The finding of the body of Frederick R. Dawson, superintendent of the Saxonville Woolen mills, in Farnham brook near Coalbridge bridge, East Sudbury, today, dispelled the mystery that surrounded the disappearance of the man early last evening. It is generally believed that Mr. Dawson was worried over ill health and business troubles and that he committed suicide during a fit of despondency. Until the medical examiner has made his report, however, the cause of death will not be known definitely.

Are Now Ready For the Football Fray

The games played Saturday showed that in several instances the smaller college teams are improving greatly under the new rules and that a fast, snappy team is liable at any time to upset the calculations of their larger rivals. Brown, Bowdoin, Me. Penn. State, Syracuse, Pennsylvania, Carlisle and Holy Cross were all winners in their games and in most of them the victories were comparatively easy ones. Pennsylvania had the hardest game and was only able to defeat University of West Virginia by one touchdown and that in the last five minutes of play. Holy Cross played a very close game with Norwich University, and Amherst Aggies played a 0 to 6 game with Rhode Island state.

The mid-week games this week include the Brown-Bates game at Providence, the Harvard-Bowdoin game at Cambridge, the Pennsylvania-Ursinus game at Philadelphia, the Dartmouth-Vermont game at Hanover and the Yale-Western game at New Haven.

On Saturday practically all the colleges have games scheduled and after that the season will be in full swing. In a number of the mid-week games the smaller colleges are going to make a great effort to win, especially Bowdoin and the University of Vermont with Harvard and Dartmouth.

The reports from both these teams show that they are full of confidence. Harvard, however, is much further along in its work than at this time last year when Bowdoin held it down to a 5 to 0 score and Dartmouth has such a wealth of veteran material that the chances of the smaller colleges against these teams can be hardly be considered very good. A victory by either one of them is hardly probable, unless something most unusual happens.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

Likewise it pays to read the advertisements of an honest advertiser.

Yesterday a gentleman came into our place of business to thank us for having called his attention to our Cold and Grippe Pills. Something in our ad impressed him sufficiently to buy a box and in advance of any trouble when he gets cold "he gets it good and plenty" so wished to be prepared. One started Sunday evening and our customer states that "there wasn't a vestige of it in sight Monday noon and that the quarter he expended was the best investment he ever made." Who's the next? BIG COLLEGES

Are Now Ready For the Football Fray

The games played Saturday showed that in several instances the smaller college teams are improving greatly under the new rules and that a fast, snappy team is liable at any time to upset the calculations of their larger rivals. Brown, Bowdoin, Me. Penn. State, Syracuse, Pennsylvania, Carlisle and Holy Cross were all winners in their games and in most of them the victories were comparatively easy ones. Pennsylvania had the hardest game and was only able to defeat University of West Virginia by one touchdown and that in the last five minutes of play. Holy Cross played a very close game with Norwich University, and Amherst Aggies played a 0 to 6 game with Rhode Island state.

The mid-week games this week include the Brown-Bates game at Providence, the Harvard-Bowdoin game at Cambridge, the Pennsylvania-Ursinus game at Philadelphia, the Dartmouth-Vermont game at Hanover and the Yale-Western game at New Haven.

On Saturday practically all the colleges have games scheduled and after that the season will be in full swing. In a number of the mid-week games the smaller colleges are going to make a great effort to win, especially Bowdoin and the University of Vermont with Harvard and Dartmouth.

The reports from both these teams show that they are full of confidence. Harvard, however, is much further along in its work than at this time last year when Bowdoin held it down to a 5 to 0 score and Dartmouth has such a wealth of veteran material that the chances of the

HASKELL'S RESIGNATION.
In resigning his office as treasurer of the national democratic committee, Governor Haskell of Oklahoma says he does so in order that he may not embarrass Mr. Bryan and not because he acknowledges the charges brought against him to be true. Haskell, we surmise, will clear his skirts of the main charges and get back at Roosevelt and Hearst before the campaign closes. His first step is to sue Hearst, but the issue will hardly be decided in time to secure a vindication before election. Thus the republican muck rakers may deceive the people by false charges.

ROOSEVELT AS A CALAMITY SHOUTER.
President Roosevelt in his domineering attitude towards the democratic candidate, is showing the most ridiculous and the most unscrupulous partisanship. Indeed he seems to be the whole republican party, and to be personally conducting the campaign. The wrath with which he meets any assault on his man Taft is indicative of his unbalanced character.

The aspect of the president doing so much bulldozing to secure the election of his man Taft is highly amusing. The voters are apparently not considered, and if they defeat Taft, as we expect they will, Roosevelt will simply foam at the mouth.

In the throes of a panic Roosevelt comes out to assert that it would be a calamity to the country to elect Mr. Bryan.

Roosevelt, himself, however, is the worst calamity this country has had for a long time. To elect a man of his selection and under his influence to carry out his policies would be to provide for a continuance of the present panic which is surely the worst calamity short of war this country has ever experienced.

VALUABLE SUGGESTIONS BY FIRE UNDERWRITERS.
The report of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, relative to things that should be done to lessen the fire risks and the destruction of property by fire, is quite comprehensive.

It recommends many changes that will be of use to our city government and the fire and water departments when undertaking improvements. It points the way to safety and progress without considering the expense.

Many of the other recommendations such, for example, as the protection of the fire alarm system and the enforcement of the building laws, are all of considerable importance, and should be heeded by the building department.

Will the city council take any action relative to this report or simply pass it by as a suggestion thrown out by some newspaper? We believe this report should be carefully studied by the heads of departments concerned and that where it may be deemed necessary by the city council, the recommendations made should be carried out.

CAUSE OF THE TYPHOID OUTBREAK.

The cause of the outbreak of typhoid fever seems to be a mystery, and yet we believe there is little reason for so regarding it.

How many people in this city have noticed a very foul odor emanating from the openings of sewers during the recent dry spell? Even on Merrimack square the odor from the manhole near the waiting station was unbearable for weeks.

What caused the odor? Simply the water which usually serves the purposes of preventing the odors from the sewer escaping into the open air had evaporated and then the gases from the sewer percolated through the solid matter to the outer air.

What happened at one manhole undoubtedly happened at scores of manholes throughout the city, and thus the cause of typhoid fever is explained.

There may have been minor causes, such as drinking bad water while on vacation, but what we have here assigned was undoubtedly the principal cause.

The city water has not caused the epidemic; the milk supply has not caused it, nor is the large number of cases due to what the doctors designate the "autumnal rise." The drought not only dried up the rivers, leaving the foul matter in the river beds exposed to the air, but dried up the sewers so that there was not water enough for flushing, and the odors arising from solid matter escaped from the sewer openings.

The wonder is, that there is not more typhoid and more diphtheria. Now that the rain has started we may expect relief just as soon as there falls rain enough to flush the sewers and hold the foul odors from passing into the open air.

It would be well for the board of health and the sewer department to get their heads together and make some arrangement to prevent a recurrence of this experience every time we have a prolonged drought.

SEEN AND HEARD

The chesty man usually wears a small hat.
Many a man has a kick coming that never reaches him.
Is it the awkwardness of women that makes them interesting?
Fiction by any other name would be falsehood just the same.
Flattery is harmless to the woman who doesn't flatter herself.

No, Cordelia, blunt sentences are not always written with a stub pen.
The older a man grows the surer he feels that he won't be found out.
Show a disposition to be an easy mark and everybody will help you make good.

The trouble with too many people is that they meet trouble more than half-way.
THE GIRL WHO SMILES
The wind was east and the chimney smoked.
And the old brown house seemed dreary.
For nobody smiled, and nobody joked.
The young folks grumbled, the old folks creaked.
They had come home chilled and weary.

Then opened the door, and a girl came in;
Oh, she was homely—very!
Her nose was pug, and her cheek was thin.
There wasn't a dimple from brow to chin.
But her smile was bright and cheery.
She spoke not a word of the cold or damp.
Nor yet of the gloom about her.
But she mended the fire and lighted the lamp.
And she put on the place a different stamp.
From that it had without her.

They forgot that the house was a dull old place,
And smoky from base to rafter,
And gloom departed from every face.
As they felt the charm of her mirthful grace
And the cheer of her happy laughter.

Oh, give me the girl who will smile and sing,
And make all glad together!
To be plain or fair is a lesser thing,
But a kind, unselfish heart can bring
Good cheer in the darkest weather.

A cynic is a person who knows he is the real thing and that all others are merely imitations.

A girl may refuse a man because she feels sure that he will propose again, but a widow never takes any chances.

A woman always wants her neighbor to believe that she trusts her husband, even if she doesn't believe it herself.

right, Jimmie, they never raised a Father Abraham in Broadway.
To thoroughly enjoy the little wind, rain, lightning and thunder storm, Monday night, one had to be in a cottage in the country. I was there, right by the lake side, and go, how the wind did blow, and O, what a difference in the morning! The cottage was fairly banked with fallen leaves and, although it was far from cold, one scented the winter from afar. The rain beating on the roof of an unplastered cottage is the greatest sleep producer in the world.

"Jim" Thompson, "Sunny Jim" is back from a visit to his old home in Virginia and is still wearing the smile that won't brush off and that wrinkles can't efface. While Jim was in Virginia somebody started the story that he was dead and the story spread to the Waverly hotel, where he was best known as a waiter. Great sorrow was expressed and letters were written to persons in Virginia seeking information concerning Jim's death. The story was believed and everybody who knew Jim was saying "Poor Jim, he was the best ever," and while his friends were anxious to learn what had happened and what would be done about it, Jim turned up in the flesh. That was yesterday, and like Mark Twain, Jim says that the news of his death was much exaggerated.

EDUCATION OF MINERS
Boston Herald: Light has dawned in the minds of some managers of the Pennsylvania anthracite companies, and they are said to be planning to open schools in which operatives can be taught by experts how to save life and property and how to meet the technical and foreseeable exigencies of their dangerous calling. Better late than never. No discipline, however strict, can defeat the perfect works of ignorance. An ounce of prevention in mining, as in everything else, is worth a pound of remedy. State supervision of the mines is necessary, but can be diminished in cost and severity by such action as is now contemplated.

FOUR DAYS FLAT
Lawrence Eagle: Captain J. R. Watt, retiring commodore of the Cunard fleet, declares that the Lusitania, which recently established a new transatlantic record of four days, fifteen hours, can cross the big pond in four days flat. If the airship doesn't hurry up and arrive, all the speed records will be monopolized by the ocean greyhounds and the thunderbolt express.

MR. HASKELL'S WITHDRAWAL.

Johnstown Democrat: Gov. Haskell acted wisely in taking himself out of an impossible position. Few people will believe him guilty of the charges which Mr. Hearst made against him and which Mr. Roosevelt elaborated. But he had artfully been made an issue in the campaign by the opposition and he could not remain in official connection with the national committee as its treasurer without menacing the interests of the party.

Gov. Haskell is to be congratulated on and commended for the promptness with which he has relieved Mr. Bryan of a profound embarrassment. We cannot believe that Mr. Bryan has been persuaded of Gov. Haskell's guilt. The testimony against the governor is far from convincing. Only bitter and scrupulous partisans have accepted it as conclusive. Papers like the Springfield Republican, which supports Mr. Taft without approving some of the things for which he stands and in spite of some of the methods which are being employed to force his election, are disingenuous to discredit the case against the Oklahoma man. They charge the president with unparadonable brassiness in convicting him out of hand on the evidence presented and they do not conceal their fear that in so doing he has committed a blunder which will seriously and perhaps fatally react on Mr. Taft.

However, Gov. Haskell could not stay in a position where he invited the fire of the enemy and where he served them as a needed diversion. He had become an issue in the campaign and was thus serving to draw attention away from the really vital points in the only step that he has taken. He has left the way open to him and the appointment of some one to the trusteeship of the national committee who is free from all entangling alliances and beyond the suspicion of corruption taint.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Ernest E. Fenolosa of Cambridge has died in London, almost upon the eve of his return to this country. He had been making a tour of Europe with a class of young men to whom he was lecturing on art collections. Professor Fenolosa was born in Salem in 1853. He was graduated from Harvard with highest honors in philosophy in 1874, was made professor of political economy and philosophy in Tokyo university in 1878, and in 1880 he was chosen professor of philosophy and logic at Tokyo university. During 1886 and 1887 he was imperial fine arts commissioner to the Japanese government. He also was professor of aesthetics in and manager of the Tokyo Fine Arts academy and manager of the Art department of the Imperial Museum at Tokyo. In 1890 he was chosen curator of the department of Oriental art in the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston. He was long regarded an authority on the art, literature, history, philosophy and religions of China and Japan, and had written much on the subject. Professor Fenolosa was thrice decorated by the Mikado of Japan. Besides doing much writing, Professor Fenolosa had done considerable lecturing on his special subjects. It was he who founded the system of art instruction now in vogue at the Pratt Institute in Brooklyn, N. Y. He also had made a special study of the history of European art as found in the galleries, churches and private collections on the continent. Mrs. Fenolosa, it will be remembered, is the author of "Truth Dexter," "The Breath of the Gods," and "The Dragon Painter."

Professor Frank D. Sanborn of Tufts college is on leave of absence for a year and has gone with his family to Champaign, Ill., where he will teach in the University of Illinois.

Writing of Richard Mansfield's ambition, Paul Wiltach says in Scribner's Magazine, that once in the full of a dress rehearsal, the actor turned to him and said: "This responsibility and fatigue are overwhelming. See that bright, care-free, contented young fiddler there! He only plays a second violin, yet he is happy. I can't understand it. If I played second fiddle I should want to play first, then I should want to lead. But I should next want a bigger orchestra, and yet a bigger. One who conducts must be able to compose, and I should want to write magnificent music. If I attained success as a composer I should not be satisfied if I were not able to take first place."

"And then?"
"He was silent for he did not prefer always to admit practical conclusions. In a moment he sighed and confessed: "Then I should not be content."

The accident that befell Miss Destinn, the singer, and that caused the concussion of the brain that for the present keeps her from the stage was the dropping of a signboard upon her head as she was passing in a street in Berlin.

AUTOMOBILE NOTES

Robert Lee Morrell, chairman of the contest committee of the Automobile Club of America, announced yesterday that H. A. Lozier had entered a Lozier car for the Grand Prix race of the Automobile Club of America, which is to be run at Savannah on next Thanksgiving day. It was learned that Mr. Lozier gave instructions to J. G. Perrin, designer of the Lozier cars, early last June to prepare designs for a car to be entered in the Grand Prix event, as soon as the announcement was made by the Automobile Club. The race would be held under internationally accepted conditions. The racer has been on the road since preliminary testing in the vicinity of the factory at Plattsburg, N. Y.

Mr. Lozier made the entry he gave no details of the construction of the car and did not name the driver. It is expected that the pilot will be selected from the regular quartet of Lozier drivers—Harry Michener, Ralph Mulford, Tom Lynch and Harry Cobb. Chairman Morrell also announced that a second Buick machine had been entered in the club light car race that is to be run at Savannah on Wednesday, November 25, the day before the Grand Prix contest. No driver was named for the Buick.

The membership committee of the Automobile Club of America reports the following applications for active membership: B. W. Buckley, Jr., Garden City; Thomas J. Cook, Greenwich, Conn.; William C. DeLano, Short Hills, N. J.; Peter H. B. Frelinghuysen, Morristown, N. J.; Percy R. Fyne, Bernardsville, N. J.; M. O. Terry, Manasquan, N. J.; and H. H. Bottome, E. R. Crankree, W. E. Coffin, Bryan L. Kennedy, Morris J. Mundy, Louis H. Perlman, John H. Stearns, Jr., James Wilkinson and Clarence P. Wyckoff, all of New York city. Applications for an associate or non-resident membership have been made by the following: Harold Fisher Brooks, Trenton, N. J., the Hon. A. T. Clearwater, Kingston, N. Y.; Chas. Dunning, Chicago; Ralph S. Hamilton, Providence, R. I.; E. C. Long, Jacksonville, Fla.; Archibald McCleure, Albany; John Lawrence Mauran, St. Louis; Michael M. Shoemaker, Cincinnati; and Byron L. Smith, Chicago.

The membership committee reports that the membership of the club on September 22 was as follows: 25,516; 25,516; 31; active, 1322; associate, 244; subscribers to the bureau of tours, 290, the total being 26,222.

The good roads committee of the New Jersey Automobile and Motor Club at Newark has been working steadily for several months in an effort to secure the improvement of either the turnpike or plank road between Jersey City and Newark. They have hopes that one or both of these next year and that work will be started early in the spring.

In spite of the fact that he has driven about 30,000 miles during the past few years Alfred Reeves, general manager of the American Motor Car Manufacturers Association, forgot one day recently that it is a good plan to retard the spark before cranking the engine. Luckily this forgetfulness on the part of Mr. Reeves was not responsible for any serious damage or injury, but Mr. Reeves has had to use a cane whenever he wished to do any walking.

C. F. Wyckoff, president of the Motor Racing Association, announced yesterday that the entrants in the twenty-four hour race at Brighton Beach next Friday and Saturday would have the same numbers their cars carried in the month of a few weeks ago. President Wyckoff mailed full instructions reading in part as follows:

"Camping arrangements for the Brighton Beach twenty-four hour race have been completed and it is hoped that they will prove to be more satisfactory than any heretofore attempted. Each camp will consist of four units: "First, a sleeping tent, removed from the rear of passing cars, equipped with four beds, mosquito nettings and necessities for slumber.

"Second, a work tent, equipped with an electric light, in which stores, supplies and spare parts can be kept secure from the meddling proclivities of casual visitors.

"Third, a work platform of stout lumber on which a car may stand when not on the track.

"Fourth, a signal platform at the trackside.

"The tents will be furnished with a board flooring and the work platform will be made of extra heavy lumber. The paddock will be enclosed by a substantial fence and it will be lighted by arcs. Absolutely no one will be allowed in the paddock unless wearing a badge, and a detail of police will rigidly enforce this rule. The paddock will have a restaurant. It will also contain a hospital tent under charge of a trained nurse and an official tent where a paddock judge may always be found."

Walter Williams, chairman of the bureau of tours of the Automobile Club of America, has had the following information sent to members of the club and to subscribers to the bureau of tours:

"The authorities at Bridgeport, Conn., stop automobilists passing through Bridgeport to determine if the driver has a license. The new state road along the west bank of the Hudson River is finished from Haverstraw to Rockland county line, leaving a distance within Orange county of about six miles unfinished to West Point.

This new road affords magnificent views and offers forty-eight and a half miles of macadam from New York city, either via Weehauken or Fort Lee, N. J.

"The Albany Post road between Ossining and Peekskill is finished, with the exception of about 400 feet, and there is no difficulty in passing that short stretch. Members going east on Boston Post road are notified that owing to road construction a detour is necessary at Rye, N. Y. Just beyond bridge pavement at Mamaroneck, instead of taking right fork down hill, keep straight ahead, taking left fork into Harrison, following the marks of main travel, always bearing to the right.

"Owing to the fact that some of the hotels along the proposed route of the scenic tour which the club has planned, were not willing to extend their season beyond October 1 the tour has been postponed until next summer."

One of the recent enactments of the state solons of Maryland permits an automobilist to appeal his case to a higher court if he considers that he has been unfairly treated by a police magistrate, and the first case of this kind was passed on a few days ago in the criminal court at Baltimore. It resulted in the acquittal of E. J. Whitford, who had been fined $20 and costs for operating his car without a light and without the proper number tag on the rear of his car. It seems that while riding along one of Baltimore's avenues the night before last July 4 the howl of the tail lamp was lost and Mr. Whitford had no extra lamp with him. He lighted the two front oil lamps and informed the police of what had occurred. He was told by them to drive along carefully and sound his horn at frequent intervals. He followed instructions, but a few days afterward he was arrested on a warrant charging him with operating his car without a light and without a proper number tag. He was fined in the lower court and appealed to the higher court, winning his case.

The secretary of the Albany Automobile Club recently sent the following notice to the members of the capital city organization.

"Because of disregard of the law, public safety and our understanding with the authorities, the supervisor of the town of Colonie has notified the Albany Automobile Club that drastic action is necessary. The operation of the speed traps is about to be resumed

Appeared Before Police Board Last Night

The regular meeting of the board of police was held last night and while there was but little business transacted during the open meeting matters of importance were discussed at the executive session.

The matter of reinstating former Patrolman Cook was discussed at considerable length but no action was taken.

Several hotel keepers walked the carpet and were warned about the manner in which they were conducting their Sunday business. Seven retail dealers were also summoned before the board for some slight infractions of the liquor law.

The open meeting was opened at 8.15 o'clock. An applicant for a second hand clothing dealer's license brought forth a protest from Supt. Moffatt, who stated that the dealers in Middlesex street at the present time had constantly failed to send in each morning a written report of the purchases made by them on the previous day in spite of all the department could do to enforce the rule.

As a result, the chief stated, stolen property purchased by such dealers could and had been taken out of town. An applicant for a license brought forth a protest from Supt. Moffatt, who stated that the dealers in Middlesex street at the present time had constantly failed to send in each morning a written report of the purchases made by them on the previous day in spite of all the department could do to enforce the rule.

The application for the match was laid on the table for a time as a result of what the superintendent said. The following minor licenses were granted:

Hawker and peddler—Alphonse Fortier, 3 Perry court, Middlesex street; George Taylor, 21 Oliver street; David Morse, 2, 18 Canada street; George E. Smith, 74 Walker street.

Second hand clothing—Joseph Hammer, 276 Middlesex street. For term of three months.

Common victualler—Etta Fitzsimmons, 242 Appleton street.

Junk collector—Max Layne, 127 Howard street.

Transfer of billiards and pool license—William St. Jean, from 81 to 88 Alken street.

Leave to withdraw voted:

Hawker and peddler—Harry Boucher, 3 Lilley avenue; Henry Crepeau, 169 Cushing street.

Surrendered and cancelled:—Junk collector—George E. Smith, 74 Walker street.

Sixth class license as druggist—Leo D. Painchaud of the 482 Moody street estate of Edward S. Houle.

IN POLICE COURT BIG CELEBRATION COLUMBUS DAY

Light Docket, Mainly Drunks Today

In police court, this forenoon, the first case disposed of by Judge Hadley was that of Robert S. Williams who pleaded guilty to the charge of drunkenness. It was his third offence. He was given a suspended sentence of three months in jail being placed in the custody of the probation officer for a period of one year.

Norah Harrington was sentenced to three months for drunkenness.

William L. Ferris, of Draught pleaded guilty to drunkenness. It proved his fifth appearance in court within a year. He was ordered in $200 until tomorrow for sentence.

Elias Stephan, a continued case, was dismissed. The defendant was arrested on complaint of his wife who acknowledged satisfaction. It seems that Stephan left Lowell after the assault and in the meantime his wife obtained a divorce from him. Stephan was subsequently arrested in Boston.

John W. Mulroy, charged with neglect of wife was found guilty and sentenced to three months in jail. Mulroy was arrested in Fall River on a warrant.

John McPartland was adjudged guilty of neglect of wife. The latter testified that her husband had abused her on several occasions. He was sentenced to two months in jail.

No dull moments at Y. M. C. I. parties.

DEATHS

MCCORMICK—Margaret. McCormick died yesterday afternoon at the city hospital. The body was removed to the funeral parlors of C. H. Molloy & Sons.

Is Planned by City of William Penn

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 30.—For the week of October 4 Philadelphia has planned an elaborate celebration in commemoration of the founding of the city 225 years ago. All the business and professional interests of the city have combined to make the celebration one of striking historic interest. In the various parades and displays practically all the early history of the country will be shown. The old state-house, where liberty was proclaimed and which contains the nation's most sacred relic, the Liberty bell—will be one of the many points of attraction to the thousands of visitors who will journey to Philadelphia during foundry week. On October 5 there will be a parade of 25,000 soldiers, sailors and marines, representing the United States army and the Pennsylvania national guard. On October 9 the historical pageant will take place. It will comprise float parades and more than 5000 characters.

MISS MITCHELL

Remembered by Friends in Spaulding Shoe Shop

In behalf of the employees of the Spaulding shoe company, Mrs. Clara MacPhail, a few well chosen words, presented to their retiring forelady, Miss Emma M. Mitchell, a beautiful traveling bag. Although taken by surprise, Miss Mitchell responded in a very fitting manner. She has been in the company's employment for the past eight years, and during that time has made many friends who regretted her retirement.

To be Observed by the Knights of Columbus

Lowell Council, Knights of Columbus, will observe Columbus Day, on Sunday, October 11. A special vesper service will be held at St. Peter's church at seven o'clock in the evening, and the members will assemble in the fair hall, in Gorham street, and march in a body to the church. The preacher will be one of the most distinguished pulpit orators in this section of the country, Rev. S. Lenzi, C. S. S. R. of the Mission church, Roxbury. There will be a special musical program. Seats for the Knights will be reserved in the centre aisle.

CHAS. J. GLIDDEN

TO MAKE TWO ASCENSIONS IN SPRINGFIELD

SPRINGFIELD, Sept. 30.—Charles J. Glidden was present at a meeting of the officers of the Springfield aero club last night and said he will make an ascension in the balloon Boston here today with H. A. Moss of Boston, a member of the New England aero club. He will go up from Pittsfield Friday with W. K. Morrison of Minneapolis, and again from here Saturday.

The officers of the Springfield aero club voted last night to buy a balloon to be named "Springfield" of the same dimensions as the Boston. It will cost $1000 and have a capacity of 35,000 feet of gas. Some member will be selected to qualify as a pilot and he will probably go up with Mr. Glidden Saturday.

REMEMBER THAT THURSDAY IS BARGAIN DAY IN THE LOWELL STORES. SPECIAL DISCOUNTS OFFERED FOR THAT DAY ONLY. READ THE ADVERTISEMENTS IN TODAY'S SUN.

ANNUAL MEETING

Of the N. E. Conference Held Here

In the First Evangelical church Runcles building, yesterday, the third annual ministerial meeting of the New England conference began. At the forenoon session two addresses were delivered by Rev. G. A. Moore of Central Falls, R. I., and Rev. J. P. Irving of Somerville, Mass. Rev. Mr. Moore spoke on "An Ideal Pulpit Preparation," and Rev. Mr. Irving discoursed on the topic, "How are we to differentiate between the leadings of the Holy Spirit and Impressions?"

At the afternoon session Rev. C. E. Doty of Stoneham spoke on the subject "The Sunday school, and its relation to the church." Rev. L. W. Malcolm of Bridgeport, Conn., gave an address on "The care of the church over her young people." The last address of the session was delivered by C. H. Hopkins, of Westport factory, Mass., who spoke on "Methods of reaching the unchurched of our communities, and to what extent can the layman cooperate with the pastor." Rev. Mr. Doty, in speaking about the Sunday school, said, "A Sunday school is not for the children alone. Recently there have been many adult Bible classes, which are a valuable asset to the Sunday school. I must say that the social features of the Sunday school do not commend themselves to me. Other features do. In my class, we usually meet on Saturday night to have an informal discussion of the text, and once a month there comes a meeting to discuss, not Bible texts, but some great truths.

"I believe that the children should learn to recite portions of the scripture. That has always appealed to me as a thorough way of getting to understand the Bible.

"Another point that I wish to raise is what part should the Sunday school have, if any, in the Sunday school. As at present conducted, I believe that it should have no part, for certain reasons. In the first place, it cultivates a dramatic instinct in the children, and this is wrong. Then the Sunday school concert is always more or less in the nature of an entertainment, and many go to them simply for the entertainment, and listen to it to enjoy themselves. This again is wrong.

"Christmas trees should bear no part in the Sunday school. Instead of teaching them about Santa Claus, we should teach them that Christmas day represents the day of the birth of Christ, and not the day of Santa Claus."

The service last night was conducted by Rev. J. P. Irving and the meeting of tonight will be led by Rev. E. H. Post of New Bedford.

THE OFFICERS

BOSTON, Sept. 30.—The annual convention of the Union War Union, composed of men under fire during the Peninsula, Virginia, and southern campaigns of the Civil war, was held in Boston yesterday, and the following officers elected:

Commander-in-chief, P. Hayes, Maine.
First deputy, John D. Thompson, Chelsea.
Second deputy, James A. Hand, New York.
Surgeon-general, William H. Gerts, Everett.
Chaplain-in-chief, P. P. Goddard, Massachusetts.
Adjutant-general, J. W. F. Johnson, Washington.
Quartermaster-general, Charles O. Walworth, Maine.
Judge advocate-general, Frank E. Farnham, Peabody.

LORD ROSSLYN

UNABLE TO BEAT THE MONTE CARLO GAME

LONDON, Sept. 30.—The unique gambling contest between Sir Hiram Maxim and Lord Rosslyn came to an end yesterday afternoon and shows defeat for the system advanced by the latter.

Lord Rosslyn claimed that by his system of play it was possible to win roulette against the Monte Carlo bank. Sir Hiram said this was impossible, and in order to settle the controversy the two men began playing roulette in a Piccadilly club 10 days ago. Sir Hiram conducting the game in the same way it is played at Monte Carlo, Lord Rosslyn started to play with $50,000 in "dummy" money and the bank had an equal amount.

Lord Rosslyn's system has been proven to be utterly fallacious. At one point of the contest he was about $10,000 in the lead, but for the past three days the bank has been a steady winner until his lordship's capital in "dummy" money became exhausted yesterday afternoon.

AT SACRED HEART

MAKING ARRANGEMENTS FOR REUNION

The Children of Mary sodality of the Sacred Heart church held its regular monthly meeting last night.

At the close of the office benediction of the Blessed Sacrament was given. After the spiritual meeting a business meeting was held to make final arrangements for the reunion, which will take place in Associate hall, Wednesday, Oct. 7. This society having charge of the candy table, it was voted that each member contribute 25 cents toward the purchase of the candy. The committee in charge of the entertainment reported that a fine program would be given on the evening of the reunion.

The Holy Name society held a special meeting last evening to make arrangements for participation in the demonstration in Boston on the first Sunday in November, when the centenary of the founding of the archdiocese will be celebrated.

will be celebrated. Quite a few new members joined last night.

At all the masses last Sunday, the pastor, Rev. T. Wade Smith, O. M. I., urged the men of the parish to participate in this great public demonstration of their faith, and said he hoped that every man in the parish would join the Holy Name society by the first of November and take part in the procession. He said that it was not often that the Catholics were called upon to make a public demonstration only on such a rare occasion as this, and that they should be proud to do it, to thank God for the great graces which have been bestowed upon the archdiocese of New England. From the enthusiasm displayed by the men it is the opinion that the Sacred Heart will have a fine representation in the demonstration on the first of November.

IN SCHOOL BOARD

To Establish a Lowell Day in the Local Schools

Teachers for Evening Drawing Schools Selected—Supt. Whitcomb Has Trouble Translating Birth Records

A "Lowell day" for Lowell was the suggestion offered by Rev. Charles T. Billings before the school committee at a meeting of that body held last night. He asked that the board might, if the members thought best, appoint a committee to consider whether some action might not be taken, whereby the children would come into closer contact with the life of the city, either through a Lowell day or by some other means.

Mr. Billings expressed himself as being heartily in favor of the custom of observing patriotic days, such as Lincoln day, such observance inspiring patriotism and revived history in the minds of the people. "But," he said, "there is no day that calls attention to the city of Lowell. We have very little in our schools that tends to develop civic pride in a child's nature. Very few are familiar, for instance, with the fact that Charles Dickens made Lowell the subject of a sketch. One of the great things that America needs, is civic pride. There is very little of this spirit in Lowell. There ought to be cultivated in the children a spirit of local pride in their city. I think it will not be long before every city has a study of its own life put before the school children, but that is in the future."

"We might, it seems to me, have a Lowell day, when we could call the attention of the children to the men and women who have represented the best in the life of the city."

"If a Lowell day were to be established it should be done with great care, so that it might not deteriorate into a farce."

All that Mr. Billings asked was that the board might, if the members thought best, appoint a committee to consider whether some action might not be taken, whereby the children would come into closer contact with the life of the city, either through a Lowell day or by some other means.

The school committee after discussing the suggestion offered by Mr. Billings, voted that a committee, such as was suggested by him, be appointed by the chair.

The Janitors' Pay

At a regular meeting of the school board held last night the committee on teachers and salaries, presented the following report:

That we recommend that day school janitors be paid for Sundays in November and April, as well as for December, January, February and March, as has heretofore been the case; that the pay of Michael Lynch as janitor at the high school be raised from $2.00 to $2.25 a day; that of Michael Finnegan and John Scott, janitors at the training school, be raised from $2.40 to $2.60 a day; and that of Fred Tilton, janitor at the Highland and Powell street schools, be raised from $1.15 to $1.25.

We recommend that the salary of Mr. Henry L. Williams as transient officer be at the rate of $300 a year; that the salary of Mr. Fred Johnston, assistant in the supply room, be raised from $2 to $2.50 a day; and that Miss Alice T. Neal, as principal of both Riverside primary school and the Riverside grammar school, be at the rate of $50 a year. Signed by Andrew G. Swamp.

Eugene P. Toomey.
All members of the board were present except Burton H. Worgan, chairman of the committee on evening schools. Mr. Goward asked that the report of the committee on teachers and salaries be taken up item by item, and it was so voted.

Item one, referring to the pay of day school janitors for Sundays in November, was accepted without opposition.

The item relating to do with the advance in salary of Michael Lynch, janitor at the high school, was also adopted. Mr. Lynch had been recommended by Principal Irish, who said that he was a valuable man and entitled to better pay.

On the question of an advance for Michael Finnegan, from $2.40 to $2.60 a day, Mr. Toomey said he was the only man in the same position who got less than $2.50.

Mr. Goward said he had no objection to Mr. Finnegan's advance, in view of the fact, but if they voted to increase Mr. Scott's salary there would be a problem, as every janitor who has several rooms would want the same advance.

The advance was voted in both cases. Messrs. Mudgett, Goward and Languereux voting no in the case of Mr. Scott. The advance to $2.25 was also voted by Mr. Fred Tilton.

The item relating to the salary of Mr. Williams was adopted without opposition.

The proposition to raise the salary of the assistant in the supply room was defeated. Messrs. Kane, Mahoney and Toomey voting in favor of the advance.

When the question having to do with the salary of Miss Neal was reached, Mr. Goward inquired as to the circumstances. Mr. Whitcomb explained that Miss Neal came in from Teakbury on the annexation wave and her salary had never been brought up to the Lowell standard for her grade of work. Other teachers, he said, doing half her work were getting $30. He said that if a man were hired for her place, he would have to be paid $30 or $35 and that she is doing a man's work.

Miss Neal's Salary
At a meeting of the committee on teachers and salaries held in June, it was decided that no teachers' salaries be raised this year. Mr. Toomey, however, moved that in view of the fact that Miss Neal is doing the work of a grammar master, that the board rescind, in her favor, the vote of last June. It was voted to reconsider, and to rescind, and the increase was granted to Miss Neal.

Evening Drawing Schools

The committee on teachers reported: That we recommend that a certificate of the fourth grade, entitling one to teach in a kindergarten, be given to Miss Josephine A. Boynton, a graduate of the kindergarten department of the Normal school at Lowell, and of Smith college; and that a certificate of the second grade be given to Miss Rena J. Thomas, a graduate of Smith college, class of 1908.

Adopted.
The committee on evening drawing schools recommended the election of teachers as follows:

Machine class—S. G. Stephens, principal; Harry S. Chrysler, Arthur D. Colby, Frank E. Saunders, C. Frank Dunce, Arthur Silcox and Harry W. Knowlton, Marcella C. Brannon, clerk for this class only.

Free hand—Lilla E. Roche, principal; Mary Cushing, Carrie Staples, Katherine Burroughs.

Accepting and adopting the report of the committee on janitors, the board elected Michael Donovan assistant janitor at the Lincoln school, he having filled the position by appointment during the past year.

All the old janitors were also re-elected.

Transportation for Children
On the recommendation of the superintendent, it was voted to give transportation tickets to seven pupils of the ninth grade from the Riverside to the Colburn school, to relieve the congestion at the former school, and round out the numbers in that grade in the latter. This vote was merely in ratification of the action of the superintendent, which had previously been sustained by the committee on teachers.

Resignations of Mrs. Eva Magoon Lamb of the Agawam Street school and Mrs. Katherine G. O'Sullivan of the Highland, were accepted.

Mr. Whitcomb presented a petition from scholars and graduates of the Lowell Evening High school, asking that Mr. Thomas H. Robbins be elected principal for the coming year.

The petition was referred to the committee on evening schools, on motion of Franklin Johnson.

On the recommendation of the superintendent it was voted that the evening schools of the city open Monday, Oct. 19.

Translating Birth Records
Mr. Whitcomb asked the consideration of the board in the matter of the translation of birth records for foreigners. In the case of the Polish and Portuguese records, the respective priests are willing to translate free of charge, as an accommodation to their people. The question as it applies to the Greeks, however, is a bothersome one. No one has come forward to do that work for the Greeks and there have been rumors of exorbitant prices charged the poorer Greeks for that work, the work of translation which is necessary in order that the Greek families may obtain work. So general have been the complaints relative to the exorbitant charges in that matter with the Greeks, that a local lawyer suggested that it would be a good thing to have the charges investigated, an investigation of the school department along this line.

It was voted that a committee of three be appointed by the chair to investigate the matter and report at the next meeting.

Mr. Swamp said he would appoint after consultation with the superintendent.

Mr. Goward moved that there be no further increase in salaries for one year from date. It was so voted. Franklin Johnson in the negative.

Adjourned.

PRES. ROOSEVELT

May Decide to Take the Stump for Candidate Taft

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—The president yesterday held his second cabinet meeting since his return to Washington from his summer vacation, and the meeting was largely devoted to the consideration of the political question.

Cabinet Divided

Although the president has said that he would not make any campaign speeches there is a division among the members of the cabinet as to the wisdom of that decision. Some of them are of the opinion that the president can with perfect propriety take the stump and advocate the claims of the man whose nomination he brought about, and they see no difference between the president telling the public by word of mouth what he thinks of Mr. Taft and what a very poor opinion he has of Mr. Bryan or doing the same thing through the columns of a newspaper.

On the other hand there are members of the cabinet who are firmly opposed to the president going on the stump and who think it would do more harm than good. See Root, it is understood, takes this view and in this view is strongly supported by Sec. Corbin, while Sec. McCall is represented as believing that if the president made a swing around the western circle and closed his tour in a blaze of red fire and pyrotechnical oratory in New York a day or two before the election he could sit back in the White House on the night of the third of November and find nothing to criticize in the returns.

Letter Writing Opposed

The president is more optimistic than his cabinet. No member believes that Mr. Taft is in danger of defeat, but they do not believe Mr. Taft has a walkover, and they would like to make assurance doubly sure by the direct appeal of the president to the voters. But in view of the president's announced determination not to go on the stump, it is not at all likely that he will change it.

It would, of course, subject him to very severe criticism and give the democrats any chance to attack him, which the campaign managers do not think wise.

For the same reason, it is known in Washington, some of the campaign managers are opposed to the president writing any more letters or in any way taking notice of future attacks from Mr. Bryan or any one else. They say nothing is to be gained by it and the president's great activity relegates Mr. Taft to second place, which is harmful.

Whether the president can be induced to abstain from his well-known love of controversy, and "going" for his opponents will be seen after Mr. Bryan's latest reply to the president is made public.

TEN RAILROADS

Were Indicted for Receiving Rebates

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Lists of ten railroads and five shippers indicted for receiving rebates, with several traffic officials indicted and corporations convicted of giving or receiving rebates, all during this year, are embodied in a letter received by President Roosevelt and made public by him yesterday. The letter is from Attorney John H. Marble of the Interstate commerce commission, pointing out to the president that the latter in his reply to William J. Bryan, issued last Sunday, did not include the work of the year 1908 in the mention of prosecutions under the interstate commerce law, and saving the facts are even more impressive than the reply shows.

The letter says: "So far as reports received by the division of prosecutions of this commission indicate, indictments for rebating have been found against railroads during the present year as follows:

Southern Pacific company, Northern district of California; Southern Pacific company, Southern district of California; three indictments; Chesapeake and Ohio railway, Eastern district of Virginia; three indictments; Illinois Central railway, Northern district of Illinois; Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railway, Northern district of Illinois; St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern railway, Eastern district of Arkansas; Missouri Pacific railway, Eastern district of Arkansas; Illinois Terminal railway, Southern district of Illinois; Missouri, Kansas and Texas railway, Western district of Missouri; and St. Louis and San Francisco railway, Eastern district of Missouri.

Indictments against shippers receiving rebates have been returned as follows: Illinois Glass company, Southern district of Illinois; California, Pine Box and Lumber company, Northern district of California; T. H. Bunch, Eastern district of Arkansas; W. R. Johnston, Eastern district of Virginia; and Warner, Moore company, Eastern district of Virginia.

In addition to the above, a number of indictments have been returned against various small shippers for rebating.

Indictments against traffic officials have been returned as follows: "W. C. Smith, freight traffic manager, Missouri, Pacific railway, Eastern district of Arkansas."

"A. P. Gilbert, assistant general freight agent, Chesapeake and Ohio railway, Eastern district of Virginia."

"In the Western district of New York during the present year the Mutual Transit company, a lake boat line, was convicted of giving rebates and a fine of $50 imposed."

"In the Northern district of Ohio, The Toledo Ice and Coal company, pleaded guilty to a charge of receiving rebates and paid a fine of $2000."

"In the Western district of Michigan, The Stearns Salt and Lumber company, pleaded guilty today to a charge of receiving rebates and paid a fine of $20,000.

In the Southern district of New York, the Central Vermont railroad pleaded guilty to a charge of giving rebates and paid a fine of $1000.

"During the present year the packing house cases, referred to by you have been decided by the supreme court, the conviction being sustained, the jurisdiction clause of the Elkins act being held constitutional and the law against rebating being otherwise materially strengthened."

"All the court decisions but three rendered during the year have served to strengthen the act, so far as it prohibits rebating. These decisions are the decision rendered by Judge Dallas in the Camden Iron case at Philadelphia, the decision rendered by Judge Grosvenor in the Standard Oil case at Chicago, and the decision rendered by Judge Gray in the Commodities clause case at Philadelphia."

Hosmer is making an effort to collect the taxes that remained unpaid while he was in office, and has notified the owners of 10 pieces of real estate that the smallest divided part or the whole of the land will be offered for sale at public auction at the selectmen's room in the town hall on October 19.

BEAUTY DOCTOR

ADVISES WOMEN TO DEVELOP

Says the New Method Increases the Bust Measurement and Rounds the Arms and Neck.

(By Clara Belle M.)

"Speaking from my own personal experience and from observation of many whom I have successfully treated in the past two years, I should say that Madame Moneaux really owed her great success as a beauty specialist to the use of a simple preparation which is used exclusively to develop the bust, arms and neck. I became acquainted with this formula and have used it ever since, much to the delight of patrons. I now buy the ingredients in wholesale quantities, although any well stocked drug store can supply them."

"If your bust lacks development or firmness you can rely on both increase and firmness from the persistent use of the following: Obtain of the drug-gist two ounces of glycerine and one ounce tincture Cadomene compound, mix and let it stand several hours; then add a teaspoonful of borax and three ounces of rose water. Shake well, and apply to the neck, arms and bust, rubbing and massaging until it is completely absorbed; then wash the face treated with very hot water and soap and dry thoroughly. Apply the treatment morning and night regularly for several weeks or months as the case may require, and the most exquisite firmness and rounding out of hollow places will reward you."

"It is the refreshing fullness and exquisite firmness of the feminine form that attracts, and it is the well developed woman who captivates, charms and retains the affections and endearments of the opposite sex. If you are observing, you know this is true."

"Married him to reform him."

WOMAN'S READY SYMPATHY.

Wearied Father: "They say that, no matter how one suffers, some one has suffered more. All the same, they couldn't beat me in this business, for, I have walked this child the entire night."
Mother (calmly): "Yes, Henry dear, but suppose you lived up near the pole, where the nights are six months long?"

AN EXPERIENCED YOUTH.

First Boy—I was awful sick, too, when I first commenced ter smoke.
Second Boy—W-w-when was that?
First Boy—Oh, I began ter smoke when I was nuffin but a kid.

STICKING HIM FOR THE DRINKS.

A DOUBTFUL MOVEMENT.

She asked him to take a chair, and she is in the only one in the room.

EXPLAINED.

He: "Can you explain to me the difference between 'shall' and 'will'?" For example, if I say, "Will you marry me?" should you reply, "I shall" or "I will?"
She (coldly): "I should reply 'I won't.'"

AND CUSTOM DIES HARD.

She—I suppose you will commit suicide if I refuse you?
He—Ah, that has been my custom!

HER AGE.

"I think that she is forty-five—in fact, she told me."
"Oh, I am sure of it. She was forty-five when I knew her ten years ago."

HALT FOR THE HALT.

Passenger—Now, suppose I'd fallen down and broken my leg, what then?
Conductor—Well, then you wouldn't have 'ad to do more jumpin'. We always stops for people with crutches.

TAKE A ROUND ONE.

"What do you do when you haven't the price of a square meal?"
"Buy doughnuts."

THE PROPER SPIRIT.

"Arrh! Get off the earth!"
"I am, sir. May I come down after you have passed?"

Not in a Book.
"I suppose they lived happy ever after."
"Where did you get that notion? Didn't I tell you they got married?"

Matter of Color.
"There's a green hard over there."
"Maybe he looks green, but he'll feel blue by the time the boss gets through with him."

Might Have To.
"He won't stand for any back talk."
"Then maybe he'll take it flat on his back."

Explained.
"Papa, what is a bookmaker?"
"One who un-makes pocket-books, daughter."

Proves It.
"Do you believe in luck?"
"No."
"Then you are lucky."

Cautious Reply.
"Is he respectable?"
"Well, he has never been found out."

Natural Question.
"He is an artist for art's sake."
"What advertising company does he work for?"

HIS THREAT.

"If you call me by my first name again, I'll kiss you right on the corner."
"But, Jack, I haven't any corners."

Most Likely.
"That 'beautifully dressed woman' is certainly the homeliest woman I ever saw."
"She probably is a beauty specialist."

Ever Notice It?
"You don't need to have money in order to make a fool of yourself."
"No, but that's what most people use it for."

Sweet Kindliness.
"Why do you desire to attract the attention of men?"
"To see some other woman get busy."

Can Size Him Up.
"You can judge a man pretty well by feeling of his bumps."
"On his head?"
"Oh, no; on his fist."

Had It In For Him.
"There's a lady of your acquaintance that I'd like to meet."
"Who is she?"
"Your widow."

Mean Insinuation.
"She sings those old ballads beautifully."
"Yes; she learned them when they were all the go."

"Please help a poor man. I've got—"

"the rheumatics so bad—"

"I kin hardly walk, boss!"

"Thank you, sir. I hope you'll never be in the same fix."

HIS TOAST.

Here's to me—mamma's pet and pop's beast—
And my soles at night which they roast.
Here's my little pug nose
And my ten early toes—
How's that for a little 'milk toast'?"
